

Trans-Atlantic Fliers Are Located After Forced Landing In Brazil

ROGERS RECALLS BARE EXISTENCE 'MID BARE BACKS

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Dec. 17.—I welcome to our ancient and honorable newspaper profession, and I am sure my co-defendants, Mr. Brisbane, Mr. H. G. Wells, Mr. Bernard Shaw, Mr. Gene Tunney, Mr. Calvin Coolidge and Babe Ruth do the same, Eddie Cantor, my very good friend.

We spent our literary apprenticeship in the same school of hard knocks, Mr. Ziegfeld's Follies. We eked out a bare existence among nothing but bare backs. There were diamond necklaces to the right of us and Rolls Royces to the left of us, and costumes of powder completely surrounding us.

Those were hardship days, but great training for our journalistic future. Eddie specializes in Wall Street and financial news. He is another Roger Babson. And how I envy him, for my little efforts will always be lowly. I will never get further than just a police report on the affairs of congress.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Although the weather conditions indicate anything but Christmas weather, the throngs in the post office indicate that the Christmas mailing season is rapidly getting in full swing. From now on until after December 25, the postal employees will be rushed from morning till night.

DO YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING IN NEW CASTLE!

Being summoned for jury duty on a case like the one that is now on trial here, would be Pa New's idea of a most undesirable method of spending the week before Christmas.

Every day sees more Community Christmas trees being erected here. By the end of the week, the Christmas decorations will be ablaze at hundreds of homes, it is expected.

Pa New observes that "No Parking" signs have been placed on North street, across from the Post Office, and hopes that the limitation will be enforced. Much congestion has been caused at this corner because of the fact that motorists have parked on both sides of the street. With a string of machines lined up against the traffic light at Mercer street, motorists desiring to turn from Mercer onto North have had to wait until traffic moved on again on numerous occasions.

Just when it seemed as if the weather man was going to cut loose with a little cooler weather, it warms up again and rains. Pa New along with hundreds of young Newcastles is hoping for a white Christmas and a snappy one. That is just one of his wants for Christmas.

Motorist Reports Hitting Small Girl

Edward C. Wilson of 712 Young St. was enroute south on South Mill St. about a hundred and fifty feet south of Washington street, Monday, as Lucille Young, aged 8, of 430 West Grant street, crossed Mill street from the east to the west side and on a dead run.

She ran directly in front of his machine and he could not avoid hitting her. She was not knocked to the ground because of the fact that she hung onto the bumper of the car. She was taken to a physician where it was found that she had sustained a bruised condition of the right hip. She was then taken to her home by Mr. Wilson.

Daily Weather Report

Weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock this morning are as follows:
Maximum temperature, 45
Minimum temperature, 32

Atlantic Fliers Injured As Plane Lands In Forest

Forced Landing In Brazilian Wilderness; Terrifying Experience For Europeans

FUEL EXHAUSTED
BY STRONG WINDS

Major Tadeo Larre-Borges, Uruguay, and Captain Leon Challes, Of France Slightly Hurt

Copyright, 1929, International News Service
SANTO ANTONIO, Brazil, Dec. 17.—Physically exhausted after a night alone in the Brazilian wilderness following a battle over the South Atlantic in an attempted non-stop flight from Seville to Montevideo, Major Tadeo Larre-Borges of Uruguay and Captain Leon Challes of France, latest conquerors of the ocean, arrived here in motor cars today.

Their plane, badly damaged in a forced landing, was left in a forest in the wild Marauja region of Rio Grande North State.

Fliers Injured

The fliers were immediately treated for injuries sustained when the plane swept down out of the tropic skies into the wilderness.

Major Larre-Borges told the story to International News Service soon after his arrival here in an automobile sent out from Natal as soon as word of the forced landing had been received. The wrecked plane was sighted by horse-men in an uninhabited section of the State, approximately fifty miles from this town.

Major Larre-Borges revealed that strong head-winds encountered during the latter part of the 4,000 mile flight and the failure of their wireless necessitated the forced landing.

"Our flight passed to and from alternating good and bad moments," Major Larre-Borges said.

"Sometimes we struck head winds and at other times we flew at terrific speed unhampered by currents of any kind."

Extreme Heat

"The first twelve hours of the flight after leaving Seville were generally good. Up until the time we passed the Cape Verde Islands, we had encountered no real difficulties with the exception of extreme heat, caused partly by general weather conditions and partly by our engine."

"After passing the islands, however, conditions were not so favorable."

"To begin with, we met severe head

10 YEAR OLD WALTER RODGERS TO BE MURDER CASE WITNESS; N CAR AS MOTHER WAS SHOT

WALTER RODGERS

While the case against John Dewey Seevers is going on in Court Room number one of the Lawrence County Court House, two little lads have been waiting out in the Law library.

One of them, little ten year old Walter Rodgers will probably be the main witness by whose testimony the commonwealth hopes to send Seevers to the electric chair for the murder of his wife, Estella Seevers. The other lad is William Rodgers, a brother of Walter, both of them being sons of Mrs. Catherine Rodgers, who was also murdered by John Dewey Seevers on July 25th.

Walter Rodgers was in the murder car on that date and was himself nearly killed when a bullet from the gun of Seevers struck him in the arm. He was with his mother and the Seevers party when they started from Cleveland for New Kensington, saw all of the details leading up to the crime and the crime itself.

The youngster is a bright little fellow and is a student in Girard College, Philadelphia. His boyish manner and his intelligence made him a favorite of the nurses in the Shengango Valley Hospital while he was confined there, and at the time, he told the most coherent story of the murders, of any heard by the officers. It is probable that the Rodgers boy will be called this afternoon by the commonwealth.

Proposals For New Street Lighting Contract Are Being Considered

Council And Manager Round
Of Penn-Ohio Company
In Conference

Changes For Betterment Of Lighting Are Being Considered

Mayor William Gillespie and councilmen conferred at city hall Monday with Louis B. Round, district manager of the Penn-Ohio Power system relative to a contract for electric light starting in 1930. No agreement was reached but two proposals were made, one by Round and the other by the city.

Under the proposal of Round the city would receive a 20 percent increase in candle-power for $758, which the city councilmen indicated they were unwilling to add to the present expense. The electric company manager's proposal called for the company to operate the municipal curb-light systems.

Briefly the proposals follow:
Louis B. Round said he would recommend to his company that the Defense Opens In McKeesport Trial Of Alleged Graft

Police Officials Take Stand And Deny That Protection
Money Was Paid

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 17.—Fred Kreiling, former desk sergeant and Martin Manning, a detective of the McKeesport police force took the witness stand in Federal Court here today, denying the receipt of "protection money."

The government, prosecuting 32 persons in the alleged McKeesport rum plot, finished its presentation of evidence against the men yesterday. Today the defense started on its side, denying the allegations which accuse members of McKeesport's police force of accepting amounts varying from $10 to $300 each week for the protection of bootleggers.

Charles L. Friedman, who has served time in Federal institutions for violations of the liquor laws was the government's star witness. It is he who said that the men took money for protecting him and his associates and were paid a bonus for "knocking off" rival bootleggers.

Manning testified today that he had arrested Louis Klein in 1926 but that the latter failed to appear for a hearing after posting bail. The charges against Klein were quashed by the government and he was a prosecution witness in the present case, Manning said.

Each of the defendants is expected to take the stand and deny the specific charges against him.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Japan's policies at the forthcoming London naval conference, which aims largely at obtaining for herself 70 per cent of whatever auxiliary naval strength is allotted to Great Britain and the United States, were put squarely before both latter governments today.

As the dominant power in the far east, the Japanese feel that they are entitled to the 70 per cent ration which, they emphasize, is "insufficient"

WITNESSES TELL JURY ABOUT DOUBLE CRIME AND SEEVERS ACTIONS

Testimony At Morning Session Of Court Is Damaging To Seevers

STATE OFFICERS
TELL OF ARREST

Spectators To Quarrel Along Road Also Tell Of Seevers' Actions

John Dewey Seevers meant to kill all the occupants of the car he drove on July 25, and was glad he had killed his wife and Mrs. Catherine Rodgers, according to testimony of commonwealth witnesses adduced this morning when the murder case now being tried before Judge Hildebrand in county court got under way. The jury was completed on Monday evening, and the formal opening of the case made by District Attorney J. Elder Bryan.

Two witnesses testified that Seevers had said immediately following the shooting, "I shot them both and I'm d—n glad of it." Another testified that he had said "I meant to kill them all."

Damaging Testimony
All of the testimony produced by the commonwealth was damaging to the defense this morning. Malice and premeditation seem to have been proved, but as yet the motive for the crime has not been developed. This will undoubtedly come later in the testimony.

G. E. Hess, proprietor of the Beechwood Inn on the Youngstown road was the first witness called at the opening of court this morning. He testified that on July 25th he saw Seevers in a car about 4 1/2 miles from New Castle on the Youngstown road between 9 and 10 o'clock in the morning. He saw him again at the scene of the shooting which was about 1000 feet from Parktown Corners. Hess said that his reason for going out onto the road was that he had been awakened by one of his employees in the Beechwood Inn and told that a woman had been injured by her husband and was being treated downstairs.

Without waiting to see the woman Hess started out in his car hunting for the man (Seevers) and found the car in the ditch just beyond Parktown Corners. When Hess came up

Grundy-Watson Are Under Fire In Senate Today

Pennsylvania Continues To

TARIFF BILL

Senate Has Many Important
Measures Up For Consideration Before

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON,

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Pennsylvania remained in the senatorial spotlight today with the appointment of Albert L. Watson as federal judge, in the Keystone state's middle district, under attack on the floor and the credentials of Senator Joseph R. Grundy under fire before the elections committee.

Grundy, seated last week despite his lavish contributions to campaign funds and his fifty-years of activity as a lobbyist, was sure to win out in the committee's inquiry. Watson was by no means as certain of winning confirmation in the senate.

The Grundy inquiry will revolve around the credentials he received from Governor John S. Fisher of Pennsylvania. Fisher was Grundy's candidate for Governor in Pennsylvania's $3,000,000 Republican primary back in 1926, the same primary which cost William S. Vare his seat in the Senate. And Grundy contributed $400,000 to Fisher's campaign. This represented the whole fight, started by Senator Nye (R) of N. D., to declare Grundy "not entitled to retain his seat in the senate." It was virtually certain the senate would approve Grundy's credentials.

Stiff Battle

Watson faced a much stiffer battle, although indications were he would win confirmation. A Democratic insurgent coalition, although no one knew how strong it was, fought the appointment on the

Oh gone are the days of the base burner store, and the bucket that stood by its side, and gone is the need of the average kid, when the bucket was empty to hide. For we have in its place all the up to date things, the heat of which I used to dream, for they heat the apartment from far below, with the stuff that is known as steam. And many a time in those old chilly days when the coal shed was way down the lot, I wished for a time where the sun always shone, and every morning was hot. But now we have steam heat, the coal shed is gone, and we carry no buckets, but say, sometimes I most wish for that base burning stove, not so bad, sixty today.

EASTERN STAR PARTY ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

Many members of the Order of the Eastern Star and their families enjoyed the Christmas party given by Elphinstone Chapter No. 333 at the Cathedral Monday evening.

The east lodge room was beautifully decorated with lighted Christmas trees and other Christmas decorations for the event, which was one of the finest ever held by the Chapter.

A pageant entitled "Christmas" was presented, depicting the birth of Christ. The characters were as follows:

Mary—Harriett Hughes.
Joseph—James Hartland.
Angels—Virginia Reher, Harriett Truby and Marjorie Snyder.
Shepherds—Samuel Davy, Dick Klingensmith and Lawrence Cromie.

Three Kings—Robert Brest, Junior Brest and Frank Taylor, Jr.
There was also a group of 14 candle bearers and 16 children representing children from other lands.

At the conclusion of the entertainment, a buffet lunch was served in charge of Mrs. Helen Stone Ramsey, assisted by Mrs. Helen Reher. Guests were present from Grove City, Beaver Falls, Ellwood City and Stoneboro.

Much of the success of the affair was due to the efforts of Miss Marjorie Rhodes, Worthy Matron, and the committee composed of Mrs. Mae Young, Mrs. Helen Ramsey, Mrs. Celia Wolford and Mrs. Bertha Trese. Music was rendered by the choir during the pageant under the direction of Mrs. Adlene Harris and Mrs. Harriet Hammond. A beautiful drill was given during the course of the evening under the direction of Mrs. Celia Wolford. Mrs. Bertha Trese had charge of the training of the children who participated.

Philathea Class Party
The Philathea class of the First Baptist church held their Christmas party last evening at the home of Mrs. Howard Zeigler, 409 Elizabeth street. A Christmas tree, beautifully decorated, added to the festiveness of the occasion. During the evening, gifts were exchanged and lovely remembrances were presented to Rev. and Mrs. H. G. Woodrow, teachers of the class.

A number of games and contests were diversities and prizes for the winners were presented to Miss Verdie Armstrong, Mrs. Lillian Cook, and Mrs. Anna Myers.

At the close of the evening delicious refreshments with appointments in the Christmas colors, were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Will Hart.

DELIGHTFUL PROGRAM FOR WOMAN'S CLUB

Beginning with the procession on the organ by Mrs. J. Johnston Fisher to whose strains club members marched into the auditorium of the Highland U. P. church and ending with that universal favorite, "Silent Night, Holy Night", the program presented to the Woman's club yesterday afternoon was a unit in its beautiful simplicity and Christmas spirit.

The pulpit and choir left forming the setting for the program were in perfect keeping in its decorations of Christmas greens, white drapings and cathedral tapers while one brilliant star shone down upon it all.

Mrs. C. W. VanNort in her first appearance before the Woman's club charged all by the beauty of her rich contralto voice. Mrs. McConagha as usual carried her audience with her in her interpretation of "Jamaica Harbinger's" "Notion of Santa Claus".

The high school carolers under the direction of Mrs. Harold Infield with strung accompaniment by orchestra members gave a fine demonstration of the richness and job which the musical training given in our public schools contributes to life.

The little ceremony of lighting the candles preparatory to Mrs. Russell's reading of her own poems was impressively performed by Dannie Casello dressed in casket and surplice. A general favorite of this group seemed to be the tender little poem written by Mrs. Russell to her own little son when a baby.

The program was arranged and presented by Mrs. George Fox. Mrs. Johnson Fisher occupied the important place at the organ while Mrs. Infield was responsible for the fine work of the high school carolers.

The program in full follows:

Processional, "The Shepherd's Song"
"O Little Town of Bethlehem"
"The Snow"
Carolers, with violin obligato.

OUR GUESTS
Contralto solo, "Cradle Song of Jesus"
Mrs. C. W. VanNort.

Readings
Mrs. McConagha, "Selected"
"Lullaby, My Sweet Little Baby"
Carolers, with strung accompaniment.

IN CANDLELIGHT
Christmas Poems, "Francis P. Russell Carol, "Silent Night, Holy Night"

Mrs. J. Johnson Fisher at the organ.
Mrs. Harold Infield, music director.

A pleasing surprise awaited club members at the close of the program in the form of serving of tea and the good things which go with it by members of the social committee.

The tea table decorated appropriately to the season and at which Mrs. W. A. Pond, president, and Mrs. Elmer Crawford, chairman of the committee presided, was set across the front of the room and the chairs for guests attractively arranged in semicircles facing it.

The committee responsible for adding this fitting touch to a delightful Christmas program included the following: Mrs. Elmer Crawford, Mrs. George R. Balph, Mrs. A. C. McCoy, Mrs. G. W. Sutton, Mrs. Andrew Reid, Mrs. J. J. Fisher, Mrs. Q. R. McBride, Mrs. George Long, Mrs. A. G. Murphy, Mrs. C. W. Nolan, Mrs. B. P. Carver, Mrs. M. Feuchtwanger, Mrs. Julia Cole.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. George Balph and Mrs. F. S. Brennenman. Acting as ushers were Mrs. Robert Eckels and Mrs. F. S. Brennenman.

W. B. A. Camp.
Eight members of the W. B. A. camp met Monday evening. They were Mrs. Blanche Raught, Aliouppa, Mrs. Sadie Brown, Beaver Mrs. Edna Steele, Aliouppa, Mrs. Henrietta Aiken, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Anna O'Brien and Mrs. Ada R. Stone of Butler.

Covers were laid for 16 when members of the Local Workers class of the Kings Chapel M. E. church were entertained at a chicken dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Robinson, W. Sheridan avenue, Monday evening. The table was beautifully decorated with Christmas tones and red roses were used as a centerpiece.

Ralph McFarland acted as toastmaster, and a few short talks were given.

Games and music were pastimes of the evening hours. Prizes were won by Miss Helen Green, Mrs. Coral Titus and Mrs. Pauline Heasley.

Delta Deck Club.
Delta Deck club members were guests of Miss Grace Ingram, Ne-shannock Boulevard, Monday evening. Bridge was the chief diversion and prizes were won by Miss Lucille Emery and Miss Constance Priestley. During the evening Christmas gifts were exchanged.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by her mother, Mrs. John Ingham.

Miss Constance Priestley, Highland Place will be hostess at the next meeting the time to be announced later.

Ramona Club.
A Christmas party and exchange of gifts was enjoyed by the Ramona club members when they met with Mrs. Francis Shof, Etna street, Monday evening. Mrs. Vance Montgomery was a special guest. Prizes of the evening were awarded Mrs. Cecil Gordon, Mrs. William Nickel and Mrs. Orville Potter.

Holiday suggestions were used in decoration and refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Cecil Gordon.

December 27 Mrs. Martin Shira, Butler avenue will entertain.

Campaign Club.
Members of the New Castle Hospital 1929 Campaign club met Monday evening in the P. and O. lecture rooms. The hours were spent socially, with 500 and bingo. Mrs. Andrew Cromie, Miss Catherine Conit, Mrs. Calahan and Mrs. J. M. Carmichael served on the committee.

The next meeting Monday, January 20, will be in charge of Mrs. James Bailey, Miss Helen Capitola, Miss Eleanor Confer and Mrs. F. R. Doyle.

Jolly Seven Club.
Mrs. James H. Wigton, South Crawford avenue will entertain at a Christmas party Thursday afternoon for members of the Jolly Seven club.

Christmas Tea for Club Associates

Novel Christmas suggestions were used to decorate the home of Mrs. J. G. Clements, Winter avenue, Monday afternoon, when she was hostess at a Christmas "Tea" for members of the Circle of '91, with about 30 in attendance.

Mrs. W. V. Fielding was in charge of the program of the afternoon, while the group singing was led by Mrs. R. L. Moonmans.

Mrs. J. B. Love read several Bible stories, and the Christmas Song, "Silent Night" was beautifully rendered by Mrs. James M. Blackwood, and Mrs. J. G. Clements.

A reading "Christmas Shock" was cleverly given by Mrs. Carmi Glover, and Mrs. W. E. Porter, gave an interesting review of the book "Lucille."

During the afternoon, Tea was served by Mrs. Roy Long, Mrs. J. P. Caldwell, and Mrs. Harry Gilliland. A miniature Christmas tree was used as a centerpiece for the tea table.

The first meeting of the new year will be in the home of Mrs. W. V. Fielding, January 6.

HEYWOOD BROWN SAYS:

"Many of the Shops Carry Only Timid Ties"

And he further complains that "No cravat is much good unless it displays some hint of revolt." As for himself, he has two of which he speaks wistfully thus, "They have more beauty than utility. I have not worn either in the streets for years because they frighten horses."

We wish Mr. Brown could stop in our store and see our collection, for though we do carry timid ones to satisfy the very conventional, we never forget that there are free spirits too. For them we have designs and color combinations that give their wearers a dangerous air, but are tempered with sufficient restraint to keep within the law. As for us, our ceilings are high and acoustics such, that there is practically no limit to the harmonies we can house.

We have hundreds of ties and are confident that among the lot are models that will please the highly inhibited, the frankly rebellious, as well as the super-conventional soul.

THE UNCONQUERED SEA

WITHIN the last fortnight another hurricane has swept up out of the seas and lashed the lanes of ocean travel. It is a familiar and fearful visitor, as well known to the early mariners as to present-day shipping.

Every year come these storms. Many of them spend their force where there is little traffic. Their paths are variable, their intensity uncertain. They are a fact of nature that must constantly be reckoned with.

The recent storms at sea were of unusual ferocity and unusually destructive. A number of ships were sent to the bottom or so badly crippled their crews had to desert them and all shipping suffered. The loss of life and property was great.

Man has never succeeded in building ships that could master the waves and winds under all conditions. The largest and mightiest liners often come limping into port days behind schedule and occasionally they come out of these encounters with nature so badly that they cannot make it home unsupported. And yet man now fares surprisingly well with the enraged seas, considering the tremendous volume of ocean travel.

Sea casualties would be greatly reduced were it possible for weather observers to give their warnings a day or two earlier than is now possible. Fishing craft and other small vessels suffer most from storms at sea and with reasonable warning, they can scurry to the safety of a protecting harbor. Radio would provide additional protection for these craft.

PEACE—SEASON AT HAND

In the fevered life of a mighty empire, old already and proud, scornful of lesser peoples, arrogant in power and assured in wealth, the first Christmas message was unheard, and its import to the world could have found few believers. Rome ruled with a strong hand. Her civilization followed the standards of war. Power was for the strong and peace endured only in the shadow of fear and battle.

Yet in the quiet hills of Judea a word of hope and prophecy was spoken, ending an old era and giving birth to a new. "Peace on earth, good will to men." A simple message, now written imperishably into the records of the race; a strange message to a world whose ears had been tuned for ages to the song of war.

More wonderful than all is its triumph over the jealousy of time, the hatred of its enemies and the doubt of its friends. Kingdoms and empires pass and the pride of men and nations is humbled, yet this promise of peace on earth endures and its hope is perennially proclaimed. The message lives on in the heart of the world. Long centuries have paid it increasing tribute, and it gathers in wide observance the affections of mankind. For the message speaks to that which endures though nations rise and fall; to the heart of the world, which through the ages has sought peace and followed a star of hope and a promise of deliverance.

The things we honor most and on which we most rely for hopeful progress are the fruits of long effort to translate this message into daily life. The wiser counsel of the nations chooses peace wherever peace is the path of honor. The world strives increasingly to outlaw the injustice or war. Christmas of 1929 will find the world nearer an absolute state of "Peace on earth, good will to men" than ever in the past.

SANTA CLAUS

Faith in Santa Claus is again being put to a test. To believe or not to believe is a question troubling many little minds in which the first seeds of agnosticism have been planted. Many will lose faith this Christmas season, some will cling hopefully to it for another twelvemonth, and for each that waivers there will be another little codger, just beginning to understand things, to accept the myth of Old Kris Kringle and his reindeer as fact.

No parent seriously considers the argument of the childless expert on child training that it is wrong to teach children superstitions of the Santa Claus sort. As a matter of course infant minds are filled with the wonderful tales of the omniscience and benevolence of the children's saint and parents nurture faith in him until the little mind begins to reason and older playmates begin to scoff and ridicule.

While the Christmas saint belongs to all children, he is particularly the patron of poor children. Psychologists have found that the children of the poor have much more definite ideas about Santa Claus than children of wealthy parents. More definite ideas imply a greater and more active faith. By their belief and its definiteness the children of the poor are fortunate, since it means that they are nearer to the true spirit of the holiday which Santa Claus represents and that they are richer for it. These children can enter into the mysticism, the hero spirit, the sense of otherness that Christmas brings in a way impossible for those children of the rich who know too much of the festival's commercial hubbub and the lazy, because easy, giving of presents.

THE TRIUMPHANT BATHTUB

A gratifying growth in the number of bathtubs in this country is recorded, and the soapmakers predict that there will soon be one in every home. Speed the day! Saturday night has already lost its pre-eminence as the time of universal ablutions.

Modern civilization has been slow in reaching the standard of cleanliness set by the ancient Romans, to whom the bath was an important daily function. But that American should lead the world in emulation is not surprising. The British, who have boasted much about their baths, still often taken out of a tin handtub, are far behind.

A NOBLE FIGHT FOR FREEDOM

At a meeting of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs it was decided that American women "cannot be dictated to by a small coterie of self-seeking, meal-ticket Frenchmen in Paris." This is a bugle note of defiance that should awake the echoes. Why should women who have learned what freedom of dress is, meekly go back into slavery?

Nevertheless, that mysterious thing fashion is powerful. Even these women admitted that the skirt must come below the knees. That would probably be advantageous to the ordinary female anatomy.

What the world needs most is a limitation of conferences.

Judging from ads it is now possible to get a gas range to match your rouge.

Have any of these women who wanted equal rights started supporting their husbands yet?

Home is a place where the air is full of indignation when Dad wishes to use the car.

The thing that enables other states to sneer at politically-scandalized commonwealths is a short memory.

Prayer In Congress

The house met at 12 o'clock, noon. The chaplain, Rev. James Spera Montgomery, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Eternal God, our Father, we approach Thee not because we are good but because we need Thee to make us so. Thou and Thou alone art the fountain of eternal goodness. We do thank Thee that there is nothing that is able to separate us from Thy love, which is infinitely broader and deeper than the measure of man's mind. By countless blessings and a thousand things Thou art calling us. Teach us how to use sorrow when it comes, disappointment when it is sent, and chastisement when it is upon us. Bless us with the fruits of the Spirit, which are love, joy, peace, and long suffering. These augment our powers, enlarge our strength, and enable us to stand in our own divinely inspired liberty. Hear our prayer for the sake of our Savior, Amen.

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

NOTED FOR NOTHING

There are some towns, says James Schermerhorn, Michigan orator, which are noted for only three things: morning, noon and night. And many of us, stumbling along through life are like such towns. The only events discernible in our lives are morning, noon and night—and they don't mean anything. No matter how small a job we may hold, how small our income, how little our apparent importance in the community we ought to cultivate one talent, learn to do one thing, and finally make ourselves noted for something.

COST OF CARELESSNESS

The cost of carelessness may mean something else than a phrase in a safety first campaign. The post office department of the United States in a year has lost $5,000,000 because of inadequately addressed mail. In New York city alone the cost of handling badly addressed mail through special clerks is $500 a day. Throughout the country last year 200,000,000 letters had to be specially handled because of careless addressing.

WAITERS AND DRESS SUITS

A movement starts in London to design a special costume for waiters so they will not be taken for guests at dinner. It is declared to be embarrassing for the guest to find himself shaking hands with the man who is supposed to take his hat and coat. All of this is not very important. Suppose the waiter is taken for a guest or vice versa, what's the harm? One is likely to be as good as the other.

KNITTING

The young men of London—especially among the so-called nobility—inspired by the Prince of Wales and Prince George, are taking up knitting and crocheting as a pastime. Thus must be getting to be a tired-out world for some people. If there's nothing left to do but knit we must be arriving at the chimney corner stage of civilization.

CHRISTMAS CLUBS

The stock market rose and fell, but the happy fact remains that Christmas club savings this year show a gain of more than 10 per cent over last year. Eight thousand institutions will soon be distributing $600,000,000 to 9,000,000 members of Christmas clubs throughout the country.

It is said that during the nineteen years since the beginning of Christmas clubs more than $10,000,000 permanent savings accounts have been begun by members. This is news vastly more important than the up and down movements of speculative stocks.

Ex-President For Senator Stirs Nation's Imagination

While Recognizing That Calvin Coolidge Is Not A Candidate, Suggestion From Bay State Receives Much Attention

Mention in Massachusetts of Calvin Coolidge as a possible candidate for Senator offers a theme for country-wide comment, though many reflecting the ex-president's quoted sentiment feel that he would hardly choose to run. The majority of those who speak believe that Mr. Coolidge would serve in the Senate Chamber as faithfully and as efficiently as they consider he did in the White House.

"We believe that the Senate needs the kind of Senator Mr. Coolidge would make and that Massachusetts needs the prestige his election would give it," says the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT (Ind.), with the conclusion that "there is a distinct and special field of service open in the Senate to a man of Mr. Coolidge's ability, attainments and public record." The Transcript also believes that "in the United States Senate, Calvin Coolidge would command the respect of the members of both parties, just as he commands respect and support in his campaign for the presidency and in the presidency itself."

"Mr. Coolidge is not among the detractors of the Senate; he has recently, in speaking of his term as its presiding officer, paid high tribute to its legislative quality," recalls the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN (Ind. Rep.), which also voices the commendation of the former President. "He would be an admirable representative of Massachusetts and of elements in our national life of soundest tradition and uniquely American quality. He would add to the high reputation he gained in the presidency. There may be little likelihood of its coming to pass, but the thought of Calvin Coolidge in the Senate has a remarkable appeal."

Accepting as uncertain the prospect that Mr. Coolidge will run, the Roanoke Times (Ind. Dem.) suggests that the role of United States Senator "would offer him an opportunity for useful service," but that "it is likely that his indecision, if there is any, arises from uncertainty as to whether he can be elected to the Senate without going through a hard fight." The Times holds that "he can't be blamed for not choosing to wind up his public career with a defeat." The NORFOLK LEDGER-DISPATCH (Ind. Dem.), on the other hand, thinks that "the Administration cannot afford to take a chance on losing any seats to a real guard to the right."

That the place would have no allure for him is the opinion of the BANGOR COMMERCIAL, which is inclined to believe that "he is entitled to a rest after his long and extremely beneficial public service." The NEW YORK EVENING WORLD (Ind.) comments: "Were it possible for a former President to enter the Senate as an 'elder statesman,' to be treated with unsentimental deference, a seat might be attractive; but when a former President enters the Senate, he enters as a Senator, to be treated merely as a peer by his associates. It may well be doubted whether this would prove attractive to Mr. Coolidge, who now enjoys immunity to turmoil and debate."

"One result, and with something like confidence, could be looked for," according to the CHARLESTON DAILY MAIL (Ind. Rep.), "an addition to the taciturn membership. Those who think the Senate garrulous would probably be satisfied that among its membership was one man who could say something when he did speak, but who, when he spoke, would speak directly to the point and stop talking when he had finished."

"While Mr. Coolidge, with a single vote in a body of 96 members, would not enjoy the same opportunity to enforce his judgments as he did in the White House," states the DETROIT FREE PRESS, "a few men in the Senate like Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Morrow would have a stabilizing effect on its deliberations. They would stand out like rock in the sea of indecision into which the Senate has sunk, affording a point about which the bits of patriotism and statesmanship now floating on that sea might crystallize." The BELLOIT DAILY NEWS (Rep.) is convinced that "the rich fruits of long experience in legislative, administrative and executive office that President Coolidge has gained should stand Massachusetts in good stead, if he would consent to let his friends boom him for the Senate vacancy."

"One can note," records the MANCHESTER UNION (Ind. Rep.), "that a large element of the public would be glad to see Mr. Coolidge in the Senate. His services there would class as a national asset. But that is by no means to say that the former President would care to become a Senator. Certainly he has given no hint of a wish to succeed Mr. Gillett. And, until he betrays such an inclination, it will be just as well not to reckon him among the candidates."

The judgment of the Fargo Forum (Rep.) is that "if Mr. Coolidge consulted his town wishes alone, there is doubt that he would even think of entering the primaries," but that "if he is impressed with the thought that, by so doing, he can unite the party, he might be induced."

"Mr. Coolidge would give staunch support to President Hoover," argues the PLINT DAILY JOURNAL (Ind.), "and would provide a strong leadership in the upper house of Congress, which is in dire need of its duty for lack of proper leadership. If for no other reason than that for Mr. Coolidge's admirable capacity for silence, the country would appreciate him in the Senate."

Doubt that he will be willing to become a candidate is expressed by the SCRANTON TIMES (Dem.), the HARTFORD TIMES (Ind. Dem.) and the KANSAS CITY JOURNAL POST (Ind. Rep.). The NEW YORK SUN (Ind.) and NEW BEDFORD STANDARD (Rep.) are confident that his election would be assured if he were nominated. The UTICA OBSERVER-DISPATCH (Ind.) understands that he "is quite well pleased as to his present occupation."

STRAIGHT RELIGION
A negro preacher can preach "Hell Fire and Damnation" better than any Evangelist who ever sought to convert the world to his Religion. One of his kind recently went all of his forebears better.

In front of him he had placed a coffin piled high with flowers. Newspapers had announced that it was to be the funeral of a neighbor. There was no word of praise from the preacher's mouth.

"Blessed are ye," he shouted, "Ouah, deceased friend, dead, done committed every sin in de catalog. He wasn't ready when de trumpet of de angel called him. He was unprepared. He was wicked an' had to face judgment in his wickedness."

At the end of the sermon every member of the congregation was eager to crowd forward and review the "remains." Solemnly they filed past the coffin. The casket was empty, but in the bottom was a mirror that reflected the face of every "mourner" that looked into it.

Just Folks
By EDGAR A. GUEST

TO THE GOSSIP
Why do you come with the dolefullest tales
To peddle about me?
Why is it only when somebody fails
You want to shout to me?
Why is it only the worst things you Picking up scandal as something to carry on?

Why from life's stream do you scoop up the scum
Eagerly, proudly?
Why of disaster and woe do you come
Talking so loudly?
Why is it always the worst news you tell to me?
Why do you find something uplifting to tell me?

Don't you know one man to praise or admire
Doing his duty?
Are you deaf to all laughter and song,
kind inquiries,
And blind to all beauty?
Can it be you're so fond of the gloomy and vile thing
That you never notice a really worthwhile thing?

Talk less of failure and more of success.
Here's what's the matter:
We've too many gossips who peddle distress
And gloomy in their chatter.
We need a few boosters who'll talk for the right side
And advertise life as it is on the bright side.

COME ON, KID, I'LL LIFT YOU IN!
CAN'T WE HAVE IT?

Follow the Leader—Whoever will be great among you, let him be your minister. And whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant. Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.—Matthew 20:26, 27, 28.

Prayer: "In peace that only Thou canst give With Thee, O Master, let me live."

Plan Music And Art Exhibits At Big Convention

Original Songs By Pupils Of Various Grades Will Be Sung By Students

PROGRESS OF ART WILL BE SHOWN

Arrangements have been completed by the supervisors of special subjects in the schools of New Castle for the exhibitions which will be staged for the benefit of the educational leaders of the state who will be here during the last three days of the month for the great Pennsylvania State Educational Association convention.

An original song exhibit will be a feature of the work of the music department, which has been arranged under the direction of Miss Rich, the supervisor. This will be shown in Room 118 at the high school. The Art Booth under Miss Emilie Salamon will be arranged in Room 207. This will be for pupils of the grades from one to six inclusive.

Original Song Exhibit
The music exhibit will consist of Original Song Projects which have been worked out in the different schools by all grades above and including the third. These songs have been freely but carefully written by the class as a whole, the teacher writing the song on the blackboard as it evolves. No rules have been laid down but we have tried to develop a feeling for form by making these songs in two and four measure phrases. For this reason four lined verses in the children's own language proved a better basis for this melody invention than the notes or syllable names.

A great variety of subject matter has been covered in these projects ranging from songs about animals in the circus, the weather man, vegetable gardens, days of the week, important holidays, to songs about nature the year round. One school chose to concentrate on songs about flowers, another on songs about birds, and still another on songs about insects, where the 4B's tell us in the key of B flat to the swing of 3-4 measure that:

The grasshopper must be Irish
For the jacket he wears is green;
He hops all over the meadow
And by the haystack is seen.

Practically all of the verses for these songs are original, the whole class participating in the joyful experience of using the tone language in conjunction with the word language to express their thoughts.

Music Exhibit
Subjects concerning Nature are not the only ones chosen for the project. One school wrote their songs about the different means of transportation, and communication. Here songs about the stage coach, pony express, and covered wagon will be found alongside of those about the automobile, radio, and zeppelin. Another school chose to write lullabies for all the foreign countries they became acquainted with in their geography. One school made songs about the poets they learned to love from their readers, and another sang about famous men they came to know in their history.

One school having listened to Dr. Damrosch and his orchestra over the radio have formed a little symphony program of their own, each class contributing a song about the instrument they liked best. The 3B's wrote their song about the drum, but the 6A's having more elaborate ideas chose the harp to make their song about.

The High School Project has gone more deeply into the historical and appreciative side of music and all of this work is individual. Here songs about the different masters of music are written and tell something of his life and accomplishments. For instance, the song about Bach follows the form of an invention while that about Handel is in the oratorio style. There will also be a display of Music Appreciation Note Books and individual vocal and instrumental compositions.

Art Exhibit
Constant improvement is now expected in all things—better implements, better printing, better surroundings, better furnishings, and better clothes. This places a new emphasis on Art Education. Development in the various subjects mentioned from the first to the twelfth year will be shown in the Art display.

Plant life correlated with nature study will be displayed from the simple tearing, cutting and crayon leaves, flowers, fruits, and vegetables in the first and second grade to the free brush work in the third and fourth grades where we begin the combination of tempera and transparent paints. In the Junior and Senior High schools we combine object drawing and plant life in charcoal, pastel and tempera paint.

It will be interesting to see how the project of lettering has been developed from the simple symbols in the first year to the free hand lettering in the twelfth year.

Exterior and civic improvement is displayed from simple paper cut fence covered with flowers developed through the grades to the designing of highway stands, garden plans, and decorative maps.

Interior decoration is gradually developed from a flat wall with a single window in the first grade to the planning of all walls for every room in the home.

All of the following subjects will be displayed in booth form showing the development of each grade in every subject, color, commercial design, craft, object drawing in the first four grades to perspective in the upper grades, representation, costume design and interior decoration.

Y Man Located In Far East For 20 Years Speaks To Local Group

Up-to-date conditions now prevailing in China were most accurately described by R. B. Hall, Young Men's Christian association worker in that country for the past 20 years, when he spoke last night before a joint meeting of the Phalanx fraternity and Senior Hi-Y club. The session occurred at the Y. M. C. A.

The meeting was the first get-together of the two Y organizations and a most enjoyable time was had. Clifford Pollock, president of the Hi-Y, whose guests the members of the Phalanx were for the evening, presided. Before the speaker was introduced President Al Owens expressed the fraternity's appreciation and thanks for the invitation to meet with them.

General Secretary R. L. Meermans introduced Mr. Hall to the boys, after which he gave a most interesting talk on Chinese habits, customs and prevailing conditions. He also explained a bit of the Chinese language and writing.

Mr. Hall returned from his headquarters at Tien Tsin last September and will remain on furlough until next summer. His time on leave is consumed in making addresses on his work there.

Former Troopers To Honor Graham

Members of Troop F, 103rd Cavalry, past and present will honor the memory of their former captain, A. Martin Graham, Wednesday, when they will take part in the last rites. This will be in addition to the members of the Spanish War Veterans and Sons of Veterans of which he was also a member.

Members of all these organizations have been asked to meet at the Legion Home Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. From the Legion Home they will march to his late residence in a body.

MOTHER ALWAYS SAID "JUST A FLOWER"

Herbert knew that Mother always said, "If you give me just a flower for Christmas, I appreciate it as much as anything you could give me. It's the thought that counts, dear." But Herbert was not satisfied to act in accordance with Mother's modest demands. He wanted to show her how much he loved her, and how much he wanted to make things easier for her. He thought that a fine, electric waffle-iron would be a perfect gift. When he priced one at the store, he realized that he didn't have enough money saved. He had to contest himself with the flower, after all. Next year the story will have a happier ending, for Herbert has joined the Lawrence Christmas Savings Club.

Hope To Make Christmas Bright With Outdoor Light

"To make Christmas bright with outdoor light" is the aim of the Woman's club who are sponsoring the Christmas lighting contest which will be held between Christmas and New Years for residents of New Castle. Entry blanks listed below have been published frequently in The News and a fine list of entrants has already been noted by the committee in charge.

Last year many homes in the city were beautifully decorated with exterior Christmas lighting effects and some wonderful effects were achieved. This year is expected to prove no exception and it is believed that many additional people will enter the contest which is open to all residents of New Castle.

Already a great many homes have been decorated in anticipation of the opening of the contest and Christmas lights are beginning to blaze on every hand warning that the great Yuletide holiday is only a few days away.

In order to make the contest more even for all classes of entrants the judging of awards will be made on the following basis: 50 points for the artistic effect achieved; 30 points for the possibilities used and 20 points for the use of outdoor lighting. Thus it will be seen that originality will count more than anything else and a simple display will have just as much chance of winning as the most elaborate one providing the effect achieved is an artistic one and the entrant makes the best use of the possibilities at hand.

Persons desiring to enter the contest are asked to clip the coupon below and send it to the Chamber of Commerce at once:

Speedy Relief For Sore Throat

This Doctor's Prescription
Requires No Gargling

No longer is it necessary to gargle and choke with nasty tasting medicines to relieve sore throat. Now you can get almost instant relief with one swallow of a doctor's prescription. This prescription was refilled so often and became so popular that the druggist who originally filled it decided to put it up under the name Thoxine and make it available to everyone.

The remarkable thing about Thoxine is that it relieves almost instantly, yet contains nothing harmful. It is pleasant tasting, and safe for the whole family, and is guaranteed to relieve sore throats or coughs in 15 minutes or money back. Just ask for Thoxine, 35c, 60c and 1.00. Controversy Over Contractor's Bill

Scanlon Refuses Check From City For Final Settlement
On Project

During councilmanic meeting Monday, Councilman Burns, superintendent of finance reported to colleagues that Contractor Michael J. Scanlon, has refused to accept a check amounting to approximately $7,000, as the final estimate for the construction of the Liberty street district storm sewer. Scanlon, according to Burns had alleged that were he to accept the check marked 'payment in full he would lost about $7,000, which Scanlon claims is due him. It is probable that the matter will land in court.

According to city hall reports the job was overestimated as an exact estimate cannot be made until the levels are run before the job. The contract price was $29,410 and Scanlon, it is said bid on a unit price. He would have been paid in all $22,071.68 had he accepted the final estimate check.

The controversy has simmered down to the point where he claims he did more work than he is being paid for, according to city hall employees.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Three Christmas Pageants In Ward Sunday Evening

Rehearsing For Programs Being Conducted In Various Churches

Progress is being made in the rehearsals for the Christmas programs to be presented in the three Protestant churches of the seventh ward next Sunday evening. On next Sunday there will be Christmas programs in the Mahoning Presbyterian church, Mahoning Methodist church and the Madison Avenue Christian church. Incidentally the programs in each of the churches will be Christmas pageants. In the Presbyterian church the pageant is entitled "The Christmas Child." "The True Light Cometh" is the title of the pageant to be given in the Methodist church. "The Christmas Quest" will be presented in the Christian church. The pageant will be the feature of the program in each of the churches. In some of the churches there will be a few miscellaneous numbers.

In the Methodist and Presbyterian churches rehearsals for their programs were started a couple of weeks ago. In the Christian church rehearsals got under way this week.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

"The Dramatization of The Nativity" will be the Christmas program presented at the Mahoning school. The program will be presented on Friday. The Nativity has been dramatized at Christmas time the past several years at Mahoning school.

The program will be presented three different times on Friday. This is to enable all pupils of Mahoning school to see the Christmas program. The program will be presented to the Junior High pupils first and then to the intermediate grades and Primary pupils.

Pittsburgh Man Is Severely Wounded In Attempt To Get Auto

His Car Stolen, Man Locates It, Is Met With Several Shots, Sent To Hospital

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Dec. 17.—Leonard Peiffer 23 of the North Side Pittsburgh is in a hospital here today following his attempt to recapture his automobile after it had been stolen last night.

Early this morning while Peiffer was driving in downtown streets in a friend's automobile in a search for the missing car, they spotted it. Peiffer jumped on the running board only to be met with a fusillade of shots from a gun in hands of the driver. Six took effect in Peiffer's legs and thighs.

Police and detectives rushed to the scene and took up the battle later capturing a man who gave his name as Edward Hessler, 24 of Pittsburgh, who was found in the Allegheny river near the foot of a downtown street clinging to a float.

Two women who gave their names as Mrs. Helen Carr, 21 and Mrs. Blanche Kirk 26 both of Pittsburgh were arrested on suspicion person charges. They were riding with Hessler when the battle started but said that they had been picked up by the man only a few minutes earlier according to police.

Pittsburgh Man Burns To Death

Gasoline Spilled On Man, Ignites, Body Is Badly Burned Before Aid Arrives

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Dec. 17.—William H. Young, 51, of the Southside, Pittsburgh, is dead today after his body became a flaming torch when a cigarette ignited gasoline which poured over him from a 5 gallon can from which he was filling his truck.

Fire Battalion Chief Sol Klein advanced the theory that Young had been overcome by the fumes of the gasoline and that when he fell to the floor of his garage the gasoline spilled over him and was ignited by the cigar Young was smoking.

John Young, 52, a brother of the dead man died in a mysterious manner last November from acid burns, the origin of which police are still investigating.

Bo Broadway by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press
NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Some day somebody is going to write a serious play for Jimmy Savo, the comedian. Savo is that odd little chap with that Charlie Chaplin face, who juggles feathers and cook stoves in vaudeville and occasionally in musical comedy. He is a highly cultivated man, a keen student of the theatre, who might write his own play, with the assistance of his literary wife, Joan Savo. Some of his serious performances at Lambs' gambols and other private professional theatrical show him to be capable of infinitely higher assignments than penny-wise managers have yet accorded him.

Man's Love For Dogs Wins Divorce Suit

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 17.—Her husband insisted on sleeping with his dog, Mrs. Eulalia G. Lewis, 30, Pittsburgh, testified in common pleas court here in the divorce proceedings she filed against Thomas J. Lewis, 40, Newburg, N. Y.

Mrs. Lewis said her husband told her he would rather have his dog than her and the two children.

The wife further declared her husband carried on a flirtation with actresses and strange women causing humiliation while they were living in a hotel in New York.

Judge George V. Moore granted the decree.

TWENTY-ONE PIANOS FREE!

Twenty-one upright, grand and player pianos now on our floors will be placed in homes in New Castle and nearby towns free, and they may use them until we need them, which will be an indefinite period. We must make room, due to our show rooms being crowded to capacity with pianos, and Frederick's, the oldest piano house in New Castle quitting business. We do not wish to place them in storage, preferring to leave them with good families instead.

Please call personally to make your selection. If you write please mention whether you prefer an upright, player or grand piano.

We expect to have all these pianos delivered within a short time—so please call early. Our store will be open evenings until 9 p. m. Open every evening.

Many Baskets To Be Distributed

Salvation Army, Rescue Mission, Elks Club And Business Girls Will Donate This Year

Baskets filled with choice goodies—chicken, fruit, potatoes, etc., will be distributed by the Salvation Army, the Rescue Mission and the Elks Club in order that a number of local families may have a real Christmas dinner.

Toys and candy will also be distributed among the families, by the business girls of the city. All in all, it looks as if those in need will have a happy Christmas this year.

Care is taken so that one family will not receive several baskets where as others receive none. Through co-operation of the various charitable organizations and individuals who donate baskets, duplications can be prevented, according to the general secretary of the Associated Families. Somewhere around 200 families will be given baskets this year by the local charities and churches. Everyone who wishes to donate anything to these families are asked to communicate with the Associated Families on East street. No publicity will be given the people who wish to help these families, and it will help much in preventing duplications.

Peter's Adventures

IN HIDING

All the time that Mother Tiger Beetle had been on the scene Biffer had been amusing himself by digging little holes in the path, but at some distance from the homes of the grubs. Now Biffer came dancing up to the boy and Mother Beetle.

"Ha, ha!" chuckled Biffer. "Don't worry, Auntie, the man will never find my cousins unless one of them forgets what you said and pokes his head up or runs back into his house. I have fooled him. Do you see those holes I have just made? They look exactly like the grub holes, and the old fellow will come along and see them and spend all his time trying to coax my cousins out. By the time he finds that he has made a mistake he will be too tired to look any further and will go away none the wiser as to Tiger Beetle family secrets."

"Biffer, you are the cleverest member of the family," said Mother Tiger Beetle. "I do believe that you have saved the day. But here we stand talking, right out in the open, and all the time the hunter man is coming nearer. I shouldn't be surprised if he had seen us already. You two can do as you like; but I am going to get under cover now! I know of a good hiding place right behind that wild blackberry bush. Man can never get us there even if he should try. I have done several favors for that bush, scratched up the dirt around its roots and destroyed its bug enemies, and it will protect me with its thorns. You two can come with me if you want to."

Off scuttled the lady and Biffer ran beside her.

Peter was not as quick to move as were the beetles, perhaps because he thought he had nothing to fear from the two-legs who came hunting Tiger Beetles. Glancing around he saw that the man was only a few yards away from him. Peter suddenly remembered how tiny he was. The fear that the great creature might even step on and crush him under his foot before he got a chance to explain who he was, seized him. He turned and ran with all his might toward the wild blackberry bush.

Through the branches Peter pushed pell mell. Before he reached the side of his companions the thorns scratched his face and tore his coat, but Peter didn't stop until he was well hidden from the prying eyes of the insect hunter.

"Bud" Stillman And His Bride Happy

Stillmans Live In Exclusive Boston Suburb With All Necessary Trimmings

(International News Service) BOSTON, Dec. 17.—"Bud" Stillman, heir to millions and his sweet little bride, the former Lena Wilson from the Great North Woods of Canada, have forsaken the modest little home of honeymoon days.

They are living in a two family house in an exclusive section of Brookline, with butler, maid, chauffeur and all the "fixings" that the Stillman millions can buy.

Of course, "Bud" is still attending Harvard and he and his happy bride continue to shun fashion and high-stepping life in general.

Pleads Guilty To Charge Of Murder

(International News Service) BUTLER, Pa., Dec. 17.—Audrey Stouffer, 26, of Sarver, near here Monday pleaded guilty of second degree murder in the killing of Frank Johnson, 38, of Coal Hollow near Freeport, Pa., a few weeks ago.

Judge James M. Galbreath will sentence next Saturday here in sentence court.

John was stabbed in a quarrel with Stouffer as they were returning home after an alleged drinking party. Stouffer is said to have owed Johnson a sum of money, over which they fought.

Vacation Starts Friday Afternoon

This will be the final vacation until Easter

REFRIGERATION is a year round NECESSITY

Every General Electric Refrigerator is hermetically sealed.

It may be chilly outside but there's a steaming stove in the kitchen. And it's the temperature indoors that counts.

When the temperature in your refrigerator rises above 50 degrees, foods deteriorate. If you throw them away they are a wasteful loss. But if you eat them they may endanger your family's health.

The General Electric Refrigerator automatically keeps your food safely below 50 degrees. It makes a generous supply of ice cubes and has an accessible freezing regulator. Its cabinet is all-steel and warp-proof.

No other refrigerator has all its mechanism hermetically sealed in a steel casing, and permanently oiled. Come in and ask about our conveniently spaced payment plan.

If you like really good music tune in on the General Electric Hour broadcast every Saturday evening.

Exhibition Of School Papers Will Feature

Schools Throughout State Will Send Newspapers For Convention Display

PRESS ASSOCIATION WILL HAVE MEETING

Local and state school publications will be a part of the exhibit of the New Castle school system which will be a feature of the coming P. S. E. A. convention. This part of the display which will be hung in the east corridor of the senior high school will include publications from the elementary, junior high and senior high schools and is under the direction of Miss Jean Rummel, Miss Margaret Reher, Miss Pauline Young and J. A. Cox.

- The aims of school publications are numerous and varied. A school paper:
1. Unifies the school and fosters good school spirit.
 2. Encourages worthwhile school enterprises through editorials.
 3. Influences the public opinion of the school.
 4. Serves as a medium of self-expression among the students.
 5. Teaches the intelligent reading of newspapers and magazines.
 6. Gives authentic news of the school to parents, patrons, alumni, and other schools.
 7. Gives an opportunity for self-expression of creative work.

8. Develops personal qualities of leadership in the members of the staff and those who read.
9. Fosters cordial relations between schools.
10. Records the history of the school.
11. Advertises the school.
12. Serves as a factor of integration.

The newspaper should appeal to the student body, faculty, alumni, townspeople, school board, advertisers and other schools.

In addition to the publications' display at the senior high school the Pennsylvania State Press association will hold its fourth annual conference on Friday December 27 in the George Washington Junior high school.

All faculty advisers and student staff members of junior and senior high school publications of the state of Pennsylvania have been urged to attend this meeting.

The program for the day will open at 9:30 a. m. when six sectional meetings are scheduled. During these sessions at eight meetings at 10:10 and at eight meetings at 10:45 student staff members and faculty advisers of some of the best publications in the state will speak on editorial and business topics.

At 11:35 the delegates will convene in the school auditorium for the first general meeting. Three brief addresses by well known workers in the school publication field have been arranged for this period.

Lunch will be served in the school cafeteria for those who do not care to attend the P. S. E. A. luncheon at the Scottish Rite cathedral.

At the second general meeting which will be at 1:45, the school orchestra will entertain. Another feature of this meeting will be an address by an authority in the field from a nearby state.

As a climax to the day's program the executive committee has planned for a dance at 3:30 p. m. in the school gymnasium and a banquet at 5:30 p. m. in the school cafeteria.

Eisteddfod Is Being Planned

Secretary Of Labor Sends Cup As One Of Prizes; Welsh News

By WILLIAM A. JOHNS BRYTHON

In just a week the Christmas Eisteddfod will be held at the First Congregational church and the sessions will start at 6:30 with the conductor, William J. David, in charge. He will prove a most capable leader for this occasion as he has had about forty years experience in Wales and in the United States. Rev. Reese T. Williams will be chairman of the evening with Florrie Davids and Sis Hughes as secretaries. Mrs. John M. Evans will preside at the piano.

A lot of interest is being shown in the different numbers on the program. A silver cup is being donated by the Hon. James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, for the Welsh recitation.

"Merry Christmas" When Santa Claus and the sweet Christmas day arrive most of the people will be full of smiles and ready to greet one another with a "Merry Christmas," so I want to greet all my friends and all the people of New Castle, including the good people of the New Castle News.

A Merry Christmas to you all.

The coming Christmas: You good people, big and small.

The coming Christmas: The turkey will be lovely.

Potatoes and the gravy.

Best Christmas to the family: The coming Christmas.

Star of Wales

On Saturday evening, December 14, the Star of Wales Lodge, No. 60 True Iovites of America, held a joyous meeting when a large number of their members were present.

The meeting was conducted by the president, Griffith Phillips of Lyndal St.

Brother Evan Hopkins of Sheridan avenue filled the vice president's chair.

The financial secretary, Thomas D. Thomas, gave a report on the financial standing of the lodge, showing it is in better condition at the present time than it has been for some years.

The credit for this is due to the trustees, Thomas Grey, Henry T. Jones and Griffith Thomas and the secretary and treasurer, Daniel Williams. Thus the lodge starts in the new year in a flourishing condition.

John Harvard gave his report of the sick ones, reporting them all about the same.

Welsh Items

Rev. John T. Williams of Cincinnati has left for his home after spending part of last week with his friend, Rev. Reese T. Williams, pastor of the First Congregational church. They have been friends since boyhood. Rev. Williams, of Washington, Dec. 17—Congress may have another row over real estate to enliven its gossip.

It all revolves the action of Thomas Blanton, the Texas firebrand, in selling his house to Rep. Q. Lee (D) of Texas, who succeeded Blanton as representative of the 17th district.

With Lee installed in Blanton's house and beginning to enjoy congress, Blanton has announced a campaign for re-election.

Lee insists that he purchased Blanton's house on the assurance that the Texas firebrand, after being defeated for Senator in Texas had decided that he was through with politics.

In selling his house, according to Lee, Blanton made a nice profit.

Lee, a well to do rancher, farmer and banker, is going to put up a fight against Blanton and the house deal may become the chief issue.

The last congressional row over real estate furnished officialdom with many laughs. Senator Caraway (D) of Ark. purchased an old mansion which Senator Hiram Johnson (R) of Calif. had leased and Johnson refused to get out until his lease expired, much to Caraway's disgust.

House Approves Federal Building Program Measure

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Taking another step to speed President Hoover's business expansion program, the house Monday voted $239,740,000 for new government building projects throughout the nation.

The action was taken in the passage of two bills by Rep. Elliott (R) of Indiana, providing $115,000,000 for post offices outside the District of Columbia, $115,000,000 for buildings in the National Capital and a separate authorization of $9,740,000 for a supreme court building.

The countries making the payments were Great Britain, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Estonia, Finland, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania and Poland.

The Treasury said "The obligations of the United States in the face of $97,819,750 accepted in connection with the payments have been canceled and retired and the public debt reduced accordingly."

Cornell Students Raise School Fund By Chest Method

ITHACA, N. Y. Dec. 17.—Students of the University of Cornell at Ithaca, N. Y., are engaged in a campaign to raise $6,000 for various activities, including religious work.

The campaign is known as the University Chest drive, and will serve to acquaint students of the realities of life as they will find them after graduation. It will also enable the students to learn the privilege of usefulness and concerted community effort.

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home

You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough or chest cold can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in millions of homes, because it gives more prompt, positive relief than anything else. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to make a full pint. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes good—children like it.

You can actually feel its penetrating, soothing action on the inflamed throat membranes. It is also absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. At the same time, it promptly loosens the germ-laden phlegm. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief even in severe bronchial coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Row Looms Over Real Estate Buy By Texas Senator

Purchased House From Predecessor Blanton On Assurance Latter Was Through (International News Service) WASHINGTON, Dec. 17—Congress may have another row over real estate to enliven its gossip.

It all revolves the action of Thomas Blanton, the Texas firebrand, in selling his house to Rep. Q. Lee (D) of Texas, who succeeded Blanton as representative of the 17th district.

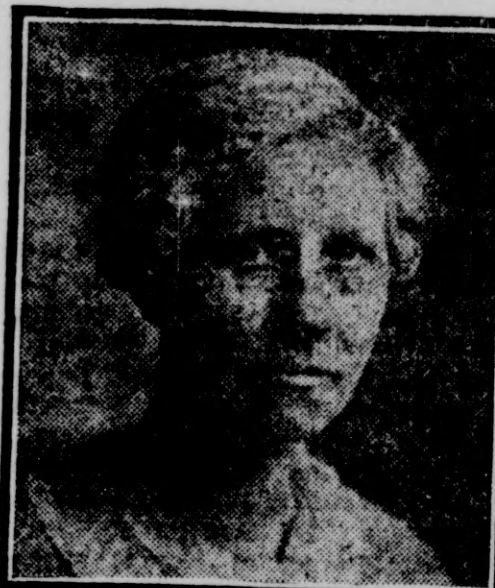

With Lee installed in Blanton's house and beginning to enjoy congress, Blanton has announced a campaign for re-election.

Lee insists that he purchased Blanton's house on the assurance that the Texas firebrand, after being defeated for Senator in Texas had decided that he was through with politics.

In selling his house, according to Lee, Blanton made a nice profit.

Lee, a well to do rancher, farmer and banker, is going to put up a fight against Blanton and the house deal may become the chief issue.

The last congressional row over real estate furnished officialdom with many laughs. Senator Caraway (D) of Ark. purchased an old mansion which Senator Hiram Johnson (R) of Calif. had leased and Johnson refused to get out until his lease expired, much to Caraway's disgust.

House Approves Federal Building Program Measure

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Taking another step to speed President Hoover's business expansion program, the house Monday voted $239,740,000 for new government building projects throughout the nation.

The action was taken in the passage of two bills by Rep. Elliott (R) of Indiana, providing $115,000,000 for post offices outside the District of Columbia, $115,000,000 for buildings in the National Capital and a separate authorization of $9,740,000 for a supreme court building.

The countries making the payments were Great Britain, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Estonia, Finland, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania and Poland.

The Treasury said "The obligations of the United States in the face of $97,819,750 accepted in connection with the payments have been canceled and retired and the public debt reduced accordingly."

Desperate Criminal Hunted By Police In All Parts Of Nation

Fred R. Burke, Man Of Many Aliases Is Sought With
$100,000 Reward
On His Head

Last Seen At St. Josephs,
Michigan, Believed Master Criminal; Has Long Record

By FRANCIS F. HEALY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—The killer of seven members of George "Bugs" Moran's gang here last St. Valentine's Day.

The slayer of Frankie Uale, boss of Brooklyn Sicilian gangsters.

Murderer of a St. Joseph, Mich., policeman.

Directing general of the Farmers and Merchants bank robbery at Jefferson, Wis.

Robber of banks at Louisville and Lexington, Ky.; at Peru, Ind.; at Hamilton and Cincinnati, O., and former terror of the Egan's Rats gang in St. Louis.

Desperate Criminal
In this manner today did police describe Fred R. Burke, with many aliases, sought by police of the nation as the most desperate criminal alive today.

Since his latest known killing, that of a traffic policeman at St. Joseph, Mich., Burke has been swallowed up by the haunts of gangland and no trace of the man has been found since last Saturday, although his description has been broadcast to all sections of the country, with word to get him dead or alive, and rewards of $100,000 spurring on the search.

Dozen Major Crimes
But thus far police have only the woman with whom Burke lived under the name of Dane, posing as a successful retired business man at St. Joseph, $319,850 in stolen bank securities, an arsenal of machine guns and ammunition which police believe were used in the murder of Moran's men, 200 well thumbed detective stories, fragmentary details of the man's life, and scores of witnesses ready to identify him as the criminal responsible for dozens of major crimes.

Stranger than fiction and more horrible than the murder intrigues of medieval times has been the life of Burke, according to police investigations. Graduated from the Egan's Rats, an education noteworthy in criminal annals, Burke went further and organized his own group of fiends, murderers and bank robbers. Murder, it would appear from his record, was an incidental step in his undertakings.

That he was not the master criminal, however, in the belief of Chief of Detectives John Stege, is shown by the fact the man risked his life and operations, and perhaps the life of his fellow gangsters, rather than pay $5 for a minor traffic accident in St. Joseph, an accident which resulted in the death of Policeman Skelly, shot to death when he remonstrated with the gangster on the street.

Hoover Signs Tax Reduction

Nice Christmas Gift For Nation As Hoover Signs
$160,000,000 Tax
Measure

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The nation's Christmas shoppers can spend with a freer hand today, secure in the knowledge that the government isn't going to take so much of their money in income taxes this year.

President Hoover's signature to the tax reduction resolution late yesterday automatically returned to the income tax paying public about $160,000,000, which would have been due next March.

The new tax law, which is only of one year's duration, cuts income taxes on the "little fellows" of below $5,000 net income almost to the vanishing point for this year.

County Basketeers Active On Friday

All Six Of League Will Play
Second Game; League
Opened Last Week

In next Friday's engagement in the Class B. county high school basketball league inaugurated last week Union high will oppose New William on their own floor. While Shenango high will contest with East Brook on the latter's floor, Bessemer is scheduled to meet Mt. Jackson at Bessemer.

The league this year composed of some of the fastest teams the county league has boasted of is expected to create an abundance of interest before many more games are played.

Six teams are members and the schedule calls for play up until February 28.

to the car he saw Seevers standing at the side of his car, while in the back two women were slumped down on the floor with blood on their clothes.

"I Meant to Kill Them All"

Asked what Seevers said as he was standing by the side of the car Hess said "I meant to kill them all." Corporal Kettner of the state highway patrol was there and at his request Hess took the father of Seevers in to the Shenango Valley hospital. Upon cross examination he was asked what condition Seevers, Sr., was in. He replied that the old gentleman seemed dazed and that he had a bad cut above his eye. Asked if he smelled liquor on the breath of Seevers, Sr., he replied that he did not.

Muriel B. Hess, wife of the preceding witness, followed her husband on the stand. She testified that she had been awakened on the morning of July 25 by Mrs. McDonald, an employee, who had told her that a woman had her head badly cut. She rendered first aid to the woman who she later identified as Mrs. John Dewey Seevers.

Seevers Comes to Door.
She testified that Seevers had come to the door of the house and as he came in said "Where are they, they can't gang up on me, I'll shoot it out first." She also said that Seevers had told them all to stay out of the fight, that it was a family affair. As he came in he had a gun in his hand, she said.

Asked if Seevers had said anything to Mrs. Rodgers, she replied that he had said "Catherine, I wouldn't harm a hair of your head, but (pointing to Mrs. Seevers) I'm going to kill that woman."

Later Mrs. Hess heard Seevers say to Mrs. McDonald, "Go ahead, hit me with that poker, I won't hurt you, you are an elderly lady." Mrs. Hess denied the statement attributed to her at the time of the shooting in which she was quoted as having said that Seevers was crying and cursing and threatening to kill everybody.

Upon cross examination she said that Seevers was calm, seemed normal and was not excited as she was. Because she feared that he might shoot her and her son, Mrs. Hess took the boy and ran outside while Seevers was in the inn. Later he returned and wanted to bring his father in but Mr. Hess would not open the door.

Mrs. Ella McDonald, an employee of Beechwood Inn, corroborated the testimony of Mrs. Hess, and told of some strange bringing Mrs. Seevers and Mrs. Rodgers in for treatment to Mrs. Seevers' head.

State Officers Testify.

Corporal Kettner of the State Highway Patrol was called. He testified that on the morning of July 25 he had received a call to the Youngstown road where there was supposed to be some trouble. The car in question was described to him as a tan Packard sedan and riding a solo motorcycle he started out.

He saw G. E. Hess on the road and as he was near the Harbor saw the sedan. Back of it came Private Brooks of the State Police who motioned for Kettner to turn around and follow. In making a quick turn Kettner was thrown from his motorcycle but got up and turned around.

The car in which Brooks was riding was ahead of him, but as he came up over the hill just beyond the Bradford flying field he saw the sedan in the ditch.

Corporal Kettner testified that he saw two women lying on the floor of the car, covered with blood, and that one of them was nearly out on the road, the door having sprung open. Seevers was crawling out of the window of the right front door, while his father was over in a field wandering around. Kettner testified that he had heard Seevers say to Lieutenant Bert Baughman of the B. R. & P. police who was there, that "He had shot them and was d—n glad of it." He testified that the back of the car inside was covered with blood, that there was a hole in an arm rest of the sedan and that several articles of clothing had been taken out of the car.

Brooks Made Arrest.
Private Robert Brooks, of the State Police, was called next and testified that he had received a call from the sheriff on the morning of July 25, to the effect that there was trouble on the Youngstown road. As he was coming out of the Colonial Hotel, where his headquarters are, a newsboy named Max Felding of Youngstown, Ohio, rushed in and said that he had been forced off the highway by a man with a gun. Brooks told him to wait there and taking Lieutenant Bert Baughman of the B. R. & P., hurried out to the Youngstown road. He turned around a few miles beyond Parkstown corners to give chase to a tan Packard sedan and as he was coming, passed Corporal Kettner, to whom he waved to follow him.

As he cleared the top of the hill near the Bradford Flying Field Brooks said he saw the sedan in the ditch. He stopped his car near the sedan and saw Seevers crawling out of the window. As he came out Baughman grabbed the gun Seevers had in his hand and Brooks put the handcuffs on him, and placed him under arrest. He also testified to Seevers having said "I shot them and I'm d—n glad of it."

Identifies Gun.
Brooks identified the gun taken from Seevers, the shoes taken from the back of the car, the pocketbook and the arm rest of the car which had been taken out. He testified that there was a bullet hole in the arm rest and some of the upholstery burned, that there was a hole in the top of the car and one in the windshield. Asked what his opinion was of the hole in the windshield he said it looked to him as though it had been made by a bullet.

Brooks was an accurate witness, testified in clear, concise way and none of his testimony was broken down upon cross examination.

Lieutenant Bert Baughman of the B. R. & P. Railway police was the last witness called before the noon recess. He testified that he had come into the city on the morning of July 25 and had gone to the Colonial Hotel to see Private Brooks of the State Police. As they were talking there was a phone call came in saying there was trouble on the Youngstown road. He accompanied Brooks to the scene of the trouble and corroborated his testimony as to Seevers, the two women in the back of the car and the elder Seevers wandering in a field. Court recessed at noon.

At the close of the evening session on Monday, Judge Wilson, a civil engineer who plotted the scene of the shooting on July 25. He explained his blue print to the jury, his testimony being for the purpose of fixing in the jury's mind where the shooting occurred. Court reconvened at one-thirty this afternoon.

SCHOOL CONVENTION TO BRING OVER 3,000 PERSONS TO NEW CASTLE

Chilton of the Chamber of Commerce, that a contribution of $10 from sixty public spirited citizens of the city would raise the sum needed, in short order.

Cathedral Deciding Factor

One of the factors that resulted in New Castle being chosen for the convention was the fact that it possessed such a splendid convention hall as the cathedral. After New Castle had been tentatively selected for the convention, members of the executive committee of the Pennsylvania State Educational association, paid a visit to New Castle to view the facilities offered by the cathedral and the seating capacity of the cathedral and were unanimous in their approval of New Castle for the convention.

The Pennsylvania State Educational association boasts a membership of 60,000 persons, greater than New York state's organization of 10,000. It is a group of educational workers representing every educational institution, including public, and private schools, colleges and universities. The official delegates to the convention are elected by the local branches.

Chosen Over Philadelphia
When the convention site was voted upon last year, New Castle was chosen over Philadelphia by a vote of two to one, principally because of the wonderful auditorium possessed here.

Between 3,000 and 4,000 people are expected here as representatives of this great organization during the two days of the convention. All the delegates are coming here with the intention of paying their own expenses. Many will be housed in private homes during their stay here, but residents are not asked to entertain for them.

Will Advertise City
Through the medium of the official organ of the association, the Pennsylvania School Journal, and the newspapers throughout the state, New Castle has been and will be brought before the people of the state in a way that has never before been achieved. Upon their return to their homes, delegates will give reports of the convention and their local branches of the Pennsylvania State Educational association.

Those in charge of the convention state that no other type of convention could be brought here which would give such widespread and favorable publicity as this great school meeting, the value of which can hardly be measured in dollars and cents. Practically all the details connected with the handling of the convention have been arranged by the school people of the city, and all the ordinary expenses have been personally borne by the school teachers. From a monetary standpoint, the convention will bring far more in return to the city, than could possibly be expended by them in bringing the meeting here. Based upon statistics compiled by Chambers of Commerce and boards of trade throughout the country, it is estimated that approximately $10 per day is expended by delegates to such affairs. It will thus be seen that New Castle will be enriched as a whole by $60,000 through the convention. One item alone, the annual dinner, will mean an expenditure of $2,000.

All items of expense have been covered by those in charge of the convention, except that of furnishing a meeting place, the cost of renting the entire cathedral for two days being $500, which is all that the citizens of New Castle are asked to furnish, and which it is believed, will be easily raised among public spirited citizens of the city, during the proposed campaign.

avenue, who passed away at Clifton Springs, N. Y., at eight-forty o'clock this morning.

A message received by The News from Earle M. Craig at noon stated that the funeral services would be held Thursday, details to be given later.

Percy L. Craig, a native of Pennsylvania, had been a resident of this city for a considerable part of his life. He was not only prominent in the industrial, banking and religious activities of this community but of the state, being one of the outstanding leaders of religious thought in the United States as the president for many years of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association, the largest organization of its kind in the United States.

His leadership in religious lines will leave an impress that will long be felt and recognized.

Industrial Leader
He had a considerable share in creating the general prosperous conditions of Western Pennsylvania as president of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association. In 1909 he was elected on the board of directors of the State Sabbath School Association. Upon the death of H. C. Heinz in October, 1919, he became president of the Pennsylvania Sabbath School Association and held the office until this fall, when ill health forced his relinquishing of the duties. He has served as a member of the board of trustees of the International Sunday School Association, as well as holding place on the business and executive committees. He was one of the closest friends and co-workers of Hon. John Wanamaker, famous as merchant, citizen and Christian worker. While giving largely of his time and attention to state work, he has ever been ready to extend a helping hand to his own church, the Highland United Presbyterian church of New Castle, and he was one of the members of the building committee that erected the beautiful and adequate edifice, costing approximately $150,000. He was a charter member of the church and has been one of the most active of its supporters.

Mr. Craig married in 1891 Eleanor T. McKee, daughter of Hugh W. and Margaret (Morrow) McKee of Pittsburgh, Pa. They are the parents of two children, Earle M., of Beaver, now vice president of the Freedom Oil Works Company, and Mrs. James Weaver, Maplewood, N. J.

In Religious Work
Mr. Craig first became actively engaged in county Sabbath school work as president of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association. In 1909 he was elected on the board of directors of the State Sabbath School Association. Upon the death of H. C. Heinz in October, 1919, he became president of the Pennsylvania Sabbath School Association and held the office until this fall, when ill health forced his relinquishing of the duties. He has served as a member of the board of trustees of the International Sunday School Association, as well as holding place on the business and executive committees. He was one of the closest friends and co-workers of Hon. John Wanamaker, famous as merchant, citizen and Christian worker. Plan Proposal Of Large Sums For Waterways

Rep. S. W. Dempsey, New York, Will Ask For $125,000,000 For National Waterways

PROPOSE DEEPENING OF GREAT LAKES

Mississippi And Missouri Rivers And Several Big Canals Would Be Benefitted

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Expenditure of $125,000,000 to carry on the National program of waterways expansion will be proposed early in the new year by the House Rivers and Harbors Committee, Rep. S. W. Dempsey (R) of New York, chairman, announced today.

The new Rivers and Harbors bill already is assured of strong support in the house, especially in view of President Hoover's enthusiastic support of inland waterways development, Dempsey said.

Among the largest projects expected to be proposed are deepening of the Great Lakes, improvement of the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers and enlargement of the Erie and Oswego canals in New York.

"The bill will be a comprehensive one and drawn with the general purpose of securing an interconnected, single waterway system throughout the United States, so all of our products may be interchanged by water in the domestic market and in the Millions Die Of Kidney Disease; Thousands Have It Right Now And Never Suspect It.

The good and wise plan to always keep the kidneys healthy and free from poisonous matter that leads to kidney disease, dropsy and other serious disorders is to take a few doses of Thompson's Barosma every three months.

It is a harmless remedy put up in liquid form, is quickly assimilated and gets to the sick kidneys at once. If your kidneys are weak, inflamed or clogged up, Thompson's Barosma will put them in shape again. If they are not diseased, Thompson's Barosma will tone up your system anyway.

All drug stores sell Thompson's Barosma for $1 a bottle on money back plan if it fails to relieve backache, sideache, sharp shooting pains and kidney, liver or bladder disease. In conjunction with Barosma always take Golden Lax Tablets (25) when constipation is present. For sale at all drug stores.

Its age is a private matter

It is very difficult to discover, by its appearance, how old a Lincoln is. Lincoln believes in making automobiles so beautiful that they are always modern — so durable that they simply won't wear out. The age of a Lincoln is one of its own concerns — least of all its owner's. On the boulevards a Lincoln of last season and the newest model share honors equally with Lincolns years older than either.

So fine is this car that a year or so of use does not perceptibly detract from any of its splendid qualities. Lincoln owners are often men who can, and do, provide the best professional care for their cars. Sometimes such well-kept cars are available at very attractive prices from Lincoln dealers. The wisdom of investing in such a motor car is quite evident, and shrewd buyers are quick to take advantage of the opportunity.

A few such Lincolns are now to be seen on our floor. Every one is in perfect mechanical condition. We are always glad to demonstrate them to you, without the slightest obligation. Drop in today.

most economical and practical way reach the markets of the world," chairman Dempsey explained.

Over 10 Year Period
The measure, which will amplify authorizations already made, will provide for spreading of the work over a period of 10 years.

The committee probably will recommend deepening of the Great Lakes channel from 20 to 23 feet, at a cost of $30,000,000.

While deepening of the Great Lakes is not regarded as necessary at this time because of the unusually high level of the lakes, periods of low water are certain to recur, Dempsey said.

Deepening of the Erie and Oswego canals will be advocated, although not in opposition to the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence tidewater proposal, he said. Dempsey is an advocate of the proposed all-American route across New York state instead of the St. Lawrence waterway, but the proposed canal improvement is necessary regardless of the final decision, he maintains.

"Commerce on the Erie and Oswego canals has grown 117 per cent in five years, to the splendid total of 3,000,000 tons a year," he said. "The estimated cost of deepening is between $30,000,000 and $40,000,000. We proposed to increase the carrying capacity of vessels 70 per cent and cut the cost of transportation 40 per cent by this work, saving $5,000,000 a year."

ground it was dictated by the Pennsylvania Railroad and that Watson did not possess the proper qualifications for a federal judge.

Senator Norris (R) of Neb., leading the opposition, quoted Attorney General Mitchell as saying Watson was "not qualified professionally," for the post "but was the best man available." Senator Walsh (D) of Mont., also opposing him, charged he had "no qualifications for the federal bench" and "owed his appointment to W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad." Walsh protested against turning over the federal judiciary to the railroads.

Once the Watson case is settled, the Senate will consider the nomination of Richard J. Hopkins, as federal judge for the district of Kansas. Hopkins also has been under fire but he probably will be confirmed when the senate acts.

The tariff bill, which was before the senate for months, had lost its position of preference.

It probably will not again be debated on for any length of time, until the new year, after congress returns from its Christmas vacation. Both administration and insurgent leaders have announced that beginning January 6, they will block action on all other legislation until the senate finally passed the tariff.

Must Speed Actions
The Senate meanwhile has a number of important matters to finish this week. It must act on the $14,000,000 veterans hospitalization bill, which the house passed yesterday. Many senators also desire final action on the $239,740,000 public buildings bill, which likewise has passed the house. Then the situation surrounding extension of the life of the federal radio commission must be cleared up, since the house and senate each passed its own bill. One or the other must reverse its action and pass the bill of the opposite branch, before extension goes into effect.

All in all, the senate, along with the house, has been working at top speed to clear up its legislative channels before taking a Christmas vacation. The recess, starting next Saturday, will last until Monday, January 6.

Postpone Decision.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—A final decision on the right of Senator Joseph R. Grundy, the so-called "grand daddy of all lobbyists," to remain in the senate on an appointment by Gov. John S. Fisher, of Pennsylvania, was postponed today until after the Christmas holidays.

The senate committee on privileges and elections, meeting to act on the Nye resolution, which would declare Grundy "not entitled to retain his seat," postponed a verdict until its first meeting in the new year. Senator Nye (R) of North Dakota, its author, however, announced he would force a vote in the senate itself before abandoning his fight to bar Grundy.

Oil And Steel Stocks Advance

Stock Market Today Not Very Active; Bulls And Bears Refuse To Renew Battle

AMERICAN CAN UP FEW POINTS

(BULLBRAIN)

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor
NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Speculative business on the stock exchange faded away to a mere shadow today as buyers and sellers of stock withdrew to the side lines and evinced little or no interest in the narrow movements of speculative security prices. Selling for "tax losses" was offset to some extent by the buying demands of the bargain hunters, but the big bulls and savage bears refused to renew the battle in which they have been engaged in recent weeks and for the most part the market was left to its own devices.

Shortly after the noon period the bulls made an effort to assert themselves, jacking up prices on a few of the steel, oil and specialty stocks. Up to that time the total turnover of stocks was only 974,000 shares, which was less than the first half-hour's sales in the busy November sessions and at the rate of 1,435,000 shares for the full day. A market of this kind is without attraction to the speculative and semi-speculative fraternity which ekes out an existence by industrious tape-watching.

Bears Give Up.

Traders turned to the buying side of the market in the early afternoon, after the bears had admitted their failure to pound down prices of market favorites. Good buying of the oils was reflected in the moderate advances of Standard of New Jersey, Atlantic Refining, Standard of New York and Sinclair. U. S. Steel made its best record of the day when the stock sold above 170 for a gain of 4 points; American Can was up 2 1/2 at 116 1/2; General Electric up 4 at 233 1/2 and Radio up 1 1/2 at 44 1/4.

Lassitude of the speculative markets today was in line with the indifference of big and little traders to stock movements.

Reports of the near-consummation of the merger of important western steel concerns stimulated new buying of Central Alloy Steel, Youngstown and Bethlehem. The bankers who underwrote the last offering of 800,000 shares of Bethlehem at $110 a share are still holding 400,000 shares, according to Wall Street reports and a strong market is expected to develop in Bethlehem while this stock is being liquidated. Central Alloy moved up about 2 points to 37.

The copper stocks and the mercantile shares were buoyed up reports of favorable developments in business.

Copper metal apparently is stabilized at 18 cents a pound, with sales resistance to that price gradually petering out. The public utility shares were inclined to slightly higher prices all day, with Standard Gas and American Power in the limelight.

Call money was unchanged at 4 1/2 per cent.

Eisteddfod Will Draw Large Crowd

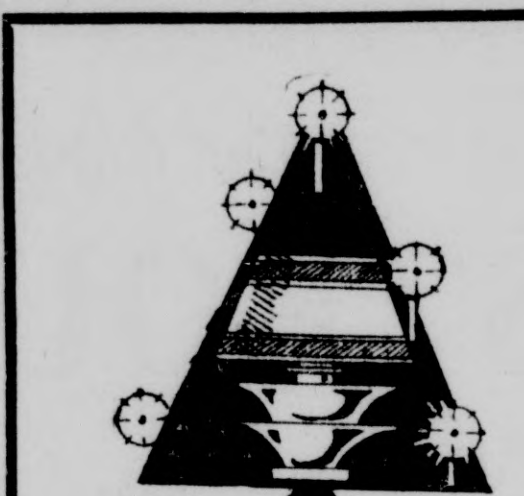

Preparations are about completed for the annual Eisteddfod on Christmas evening at the First Congregational church of this city. The event this year promises to be more than the usually successful event, there being widespread interest and many entries.

The senate committee on privileges and elections, meeting to act on the Nye resolution, which would declare Grundy "not entitled to retain his seat," postponed a verdict until its first meeting in the new year. Senator Nye (R) of North Dakota, its author, however, announced he would force a vote in the senate itself before abandoning his fight to bar Grundy.

Allow Railroad To Present Evidence For Trunk System

Despite Objections From "Big Three" Commission Hears Arguments

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Despite the objection of counsel for three trunk line railroads—New York Central, Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio—the Interstate Commerce commission today permitted the New York, Pittsburgh & Chicago to present evidence in support of its application for authority to construct a 284-mile line across Pennsylvania from Easton to the Pittsburgh industrial area.

These roads had filed a motion to dismiss the proceeding on the ground the proposed railroad, which is sponsored by L. F. Lore, president of the Delaware & Hudson, had not obtained proper authority from the State of Pennsylvania to proceed. C. V. Burnside, assistant finance director of the commission, however, ruled that the case should proceed.

MISSING BOY LOCATED AT HOME OF UNCLE

Road Supervisors Are Found Guilty

Two Road Supervisors In Bucks County Convicted Of "Negligence"

(International News Service)
DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Dec. 17.—Conviction of two road supervisors of Newton township, Bucks county, for "maintaining a nuisance" for failure to keep in proper repair a strip of highway between Newton and Richboro on the main artery of travel through Bucks county between New York and Philadelphia, was seen as setting a precedent in the courts of the state and likely to be followed by other courts throughout the state after a trial lasting five days. The jurors deliberated an hour and a half. The two defendants, Alexander Chambers and Charles E. Shuster, were convicted before Judge H. H. Keller and a jury here late yesterday an application for a new trial.

New Directors For Chamber Of Commerce Named

Robert J. Tully And H. L. Gordon Are Chosen To Fill Vacancies In Board

BUDGET AND FINANCE COMMITTEES CHOSEN

Two new directors were named by the board of directors of the Chamber of commerce at a recent meeting to fill vacancies which existed in the board, Robert J. Tully, general superintendent of the Carnegie Steel company, and H. L. Gordon, general superintendent of the Pittsburgh Limestone Co., being chosen.

At the same time an executive committee and combined budget and finance committee was also named. Members of the executive committee are Hon. Fred L. Reutz, D. S. Pyle and Ira M. Ramsey; president, W. F. Moody; treasurer, Thomas W. Dickey, and secretary, A. W. Chilton.

Those named on the combined budget and finance committee were James M. Smith, chairman; P. J. Flaherty, L. G. Genkinger, W. W. Duff, W. J. Offutt, J. H. Lamb, W. F. Moody, T. W. Dickey and Alfred W. Chilton.

All Sorts Of Toys Donated By Women

Big baby dolls, middle sized dolls, and wee wee dolls, airplanes, zeppelins, wagons, toy sweepers, rubber balls, choo-choo trains—just everything and every kind of toys imaginable were donated Monday evening by the Business and Professional Women of this city, to be distributed by the Associated Charities.

The toys were brought to the parlor of the Y. W. C. A. building by the members of the club and then they were wrapped and all ready to delight the children of persons without funds in this city.

The toys will be sent along in baskets with the Christmas dinners which will be furnished a great many families, it was announced at the Associated Charities this morning.

There are somewhat around 70 or 80 toys donated by the Business and Professional Women, which will furnish some real Christmas cheer for a lot of kiddies.

Helen Wills To Wed Very Soon, Friends Learn

(International News Service.)
BERKELEY, Cal., Dec. 17.—Miss Helen Wills announced today that she will be a bride within ten days. The world's tennis champion indicated that her marriage to Fred Moody, Jr., of San Francisco, will be held here, at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Wills.

She declared, however, that "plans are not complete."

Puts Wife And Babe Out Of His Auto

FRANKLIN, Pa., Dec. 17.—Mrs. Herbert Barber has reported to the authorities here that her husband, with whom she has been living in Detroit drove to a point near the home of her parents at Pattonville and ejected Mrs. Barber and infant from the car and then drove away. The Barber family has been having domestic trouble and separated some time ago, but later adjusted their differences. Her husband in putting Mrs. Barber out of the car tore her coat in several places.

The sad thing about having a wife is she is always wishing her husband would be more sensible or more foolish.

Your's Been Sent?

Christmas gifts being sent to Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands must be mailed by Thursday if the sender wishes the parcel to arrive before the holiday, postal officials state. Those to the Bahamas must be deposited in the mails by Friday December 20 and those to Bermuda and Cuba must be sent by Saturday December 21. Gifts to other foreign lands may not reach their destination in time for Christmas, if mailed now, the time of mailing having long been past.

Brown Has Eye On Governorship

Francis Shunk Brown, Vare's Chief In Philadelphia Would Accept Candidacy

DENIES RUMOR OF ALLEGED TRADING

(International News Service.)
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 17.—Francis Shunk Brown, chief of William G. Vare's counsel in the Philadelphia G. O. P. leader's unsuccessful fight for a seat in the United States senate, revealed today that he is willing and eager to receive the Republican nomination for governor next year. However, the aged former state attorney general is unwilling to participate in a stiff battle for the nomination.

Brown, who has long been mentioned as Vare's candidate for the gubernatorial post, spoke frankly of his ambitions and the report that state party leaders are being urged to nominate him for governor and in return Vare would relinquish his determination to fight to a finish for the senate post denied the Philadelphiaian.

"I don't know anything about it," Brown said in reference to the rumors of the trade involving the withdrawal of Vare. "Furthermore, I don't think anything like that is in prospect.

"For some time I have been receiving letters from prominent leaders up-state, many of them county leaders," he added, "asking me to become a candidate for governor. I appreciate their interest and I would be pleased to have the nomination. But I am not going to get into any knock-down-and-drag-out fight. If the nomination comes to me in the right way, and by that I mean without a contest, I would be glad to accept."

May Find Gold Of Early Explorers

Entrance To Secret Tunnel Discovered By Accident
(International News Service.)
ANTONITO, Colo., Dec. 17.—Discovery of an entrance to a cave and tunnel in which there is a possibility of finding a tremendous fortune of gold and treasure hidden by Spanish or French explorers in this vicinity may solve a two-century old mystery and end a 50-year search.

Legend relates that the explorers buried the treasure in a cave in the vicinity and then were exterminated by Indians.

The cave entrance was discovered by a shepherd when he suddenly slipped thru the earth on a hillside and disappeared. An examination disclosed an old tunnel which led to a cave room about 15 feet square. Evidences of habitation were there in the way of charred embers and a tunnel entrance blocked off with stones.

The tunnel may lead to hidden treasure vaults deep in the mountainside, it is believed.

A number of men will soon be employed to open up and explore the cavern in a systematic way.

Two Firemen Are Severely Injured

(International News Service.)
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 17.—Two firemen were injured and damage estimated at $35,000 caused here today when fire started in a pile of boxes in the third floor of the building occupied by Kolb Brothers and Halsman, wholesale milliners and the Pitt Furniture Company.

Fireman George Andrews was severely cut about the right thigh and Fireman John W. Jackson was cut on the hand when glass struck them as they climbed a ladder to reach the fire.

Troop To Attend Funeral Mounted

State Officers Coming Here As Kiwanis Guests

Governor And Lieutenant Governor-elect To Be Here For Installation

Governor-elect Charley Donley of the Pennsylvania district of Kiwanis International with Lieutenant Governor-elect Dr. H. E. Helling will be guests of honor at Wednesday's meeting of the New Castle club, it was learned through a message received this morning.

Mr. Donley of Pittsburgh is the present lieutenant governor of the state. Dr. Helling comes from Ellwood City.

Due to the presence of the district officials, local officers have arranged a special program in their honor. Featuring the meeting will be the installation of newly elected officers for the year, with James K. Love, past president, as master of ceremonies.

The revised program follows:
Opening by President C. B. Phillips.
James K. Love, past president, will assume charge.

Presentation of president's pin and commission to Judge R. L. Hildebrand, incoming president, by Retiring President Phillips.

Presentation of past president's pin and commission to Mr. Phillips by T. W. Dickey, past president.

Presentation of vice president's pin and commission to C. P. Reynolds and J. Blaha by C. E. McGrath, past president.

Presentation of commissions to new members of the board of directors by James Barry, past president.

Remarks by Governor-elect Donley. Remarks by Lieutenant Governor-elect Helling.

Honoring the new state officers, Beaver Falls Kiwanians have planned for a program in their honor at

No Decision Yet In Ellwood City Tangle

Nothing has yet been done toward unravelling Ellwood City's snarl connected with the election of Van Gorder and Douds as Justices of the Peace. It is claimed under a letter received by Prothonotary R. M. Campbell from the secretary of the commonwealth that Ellwood City is only entitled to two justices, whereas if commissioners were issued to Van Gorder and Douds there would be three. Ellwood has had three justices for some time. Van Gorder and Douds have taken the matter up with the state department, but no official action has been handed down.

Husband Trades Jobs With Wife, But Fails

LONDON, Dec. 17.—A Tottenham husband didn't want to work, so he stayed at home and attempted to do the little woman's housework while she earned the daily bread.

But the little lady thought not so much of the idea, so she hid her husband before Magistrate Platten. The latter decided that the husband's housework was terrible and that he had to either pay board or get a room in the jail.

BIBLE STUDY CLASS WILL DISCONTINUE UNTIL AFTER HOLIDAYS

The Community Bible Study class, being conducted Tuesday evenings at 7:30 in the Y. W. C. A. will hold their last meeting this evening until after the holidays. They will again be taken up January 7.

Rev. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, is the teacher of these classes and much benefit has been derived from his teaching to those attending the classes.

This evening the religious ideas that were current at the time of Jesus will be taken up, the Messianic hope and the Kingdom of God, being dwelt upon. The private life of Jesus, up to the time of his ministry will also be discussed.

Alienation Of Wife's Affection Claimed In Suit

Gilbert R. Lee has filed a suit at the Lawrence county prothonotary's office in which he asks $5,000 from Fred Meixner for alleged alienation of his wife's affections.

Lee claims that he and his wife had always been getting along well together until about four months ago when Meixner began to make love to Mrs. Lee.

He says that he has reason to believe that Mrs. Lee and Meixner are planning to leave the city together. A capias was issued for Meixner with bail fixed at $5,000.

Husband Attacks Wife With An Axe

UNIONTOWN, Dec. 17.—His wife, Katie, aged 36, in the Uniontown hospital suffering from numerous axe wounds, Nicholas Zukof of Crawford Mine, near Masontown was jailed, on charges of assault and battery with intent to kill.

The victim of the attack is suffering from wounds of the head, left shoulder and right hand. She suffered much from loss of blood.

The couple quarreled early this morning and in the heat of passion the husband is alleged to have struck her numerous times with an axe until she collapsed to the floor in a bloody heap.

Travelers Will Initiate Class

Interesting Event Will Be Staged
Thursday Evening Of This Week

At the meeting of New Castle Council No. 408, United Commercial Travelers to be held Thursday evening of this week in the Sons of Union Veterans Hall in the city building, a class of twenty-five candidates will be initiated into the organization.

Plans have been completed to put the initiation on in first class shape and it is anticipated that there will be many visitors from councils of surrounding cities and towns to participate in the activities of the evening. There will be a buffet lunch served at the close of the evening.

Auxiliary Party Is Open To Public

Arrangements have been completed by the members of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Harry L. McBride Post Veterans of Foreign Wars for the party to be held in the Legion Home Thursday evening, December 19.

The public in general is invited to attend in addition to all war veterans and their wives and several hundred are expected present.

Proceeds of the evening will be devoted to the purchase of gifts for children at the V. F. W. Orphans Home at Eaton Rapids, Mich., where over 60 children of deceased World War veterans are now being cared for.

Agreement Reached On Verdict Amount

Automobile Accident On Atlantic Avenue Settled Without A Trial

Verdict by agreement was reached at court in the case of Angelo Voccalo, by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Voccalo, and the latter in their own right against Frank J. Mason. The case was one in which Angelo Voccalo was struck by the automobile of Mason on Atlantic avenue. It was claimed that Voccalo was about half way across the street near the intersection of Mahoning avenue when the Mason machine swerved and struck him. It was alleged that the machine was going at a high rate of speed. The boy's leg was broken and he was otherwise injured. Under the verdict by agreement the parents are to receive $250 and the boy $50, or $300 in all.

First Aid Training Course.
The first aid training course under the auspices of the American Red Cross, was held in the Bell Telephone plant office on the fifth floor of the Temple building on Monday evening at 7:30. The meeting was in charge of Dr. E. M. Parlett, H. J. Cullford, an English first aid expert, assisted with the instructions. Scout Executive J. Lee Calahan was a visitor.

Messrs. McCune, Boyd and Haley assisted with instructions in different parts of the course. There were 26 boy scout leaders and seven girl scout leaders in attendance at this session. The meetings are postponed for three weeks on account of the holiday season.

At the next meeting H. J. Cullford will demonstrate some bandages used in Europe but not in this country.

Community Trees Being Prepared

Neighborhood Trees Being Erected And Trimmed In The Highland Avenue District

A beautiful large pine tree has been erected on Laurel Boulevard at the corner of Logan street by James A. Porter, 412 Laurel boulevard. A number of the neighbor men, including W. D. Jones and Mr. Howard helped to erect the tree and the lights will be placed this week and it is hoped to have it illuminated Friday or Saturday. It has been announced that there will be carol singing at the tree during Christmas week.

The stately old pine tree on the Keast property at the corner of Highland and Winter avenues is being utilized this year for the community tree at that center. Lights have been put in place and there will be Christmas carol singing at the tree by the Girl Scouts on the Sunday after Christmas at 5 p. m. Mrs. F. E. Sowersby of Winter avenue is overseeing the entertainment at this point.

The freight office grounds of the B and O railroad company at the corner of Mill and Division streets have also been beautified by a tree, which has been put in place and trimmed. It is expected to have this illuminated some time this week and during the holiday season.

The FLAVOR of
BROOKS' ROLL BUTTER is the result of its
ABSOLUTE *FRESHNESS

The rich, delicate, creamy flavor of Brooks' Roll Butter is largely due to the speed with which it reaches you after churning. Modern transportation and all the distribution short-cuts that condense days into hours are enlisted to insure its freshness.

Butter flavor depends upon freshness. Already remarkably good because of its richness and texture, Brooks' Roll Butter is assured an added measure of goodness because of the A&P Time-Control Plan which speeds the butter from our creamery to your refrigerator and provides an accurate check on its freshness.

Whether you do your marketing in the morning or the evening, this same freshness will prevail, for perishable foods at A&P stores are replenished frequently enough to maintain the high standard that the Time-Control Plan makes possible.

If the butter you habitually buy has always "seemed" fresh, try a package of Brooks' Roll Butter and discover, to your delight, what controlled freshness can mean.

THE GREAT ATLANTIC & PACIFIC TEA CO

Importantly new in the marketing of perishable foods, the A&P Time-Control Plan provides guaranteed freshness—a guarantee that is fulfilled with the first taste of Brooks' Roll Butter.

"ONLY REGRET DID NOT HAVE KONJOLA SOONER"

Lady, For 46 Years Norristown Resident. Tells What New Medicine Did For Her.

MRS. EMMA E. STEAD

"The only regret I have about Konjola is that I did not know about it sooner," said Mrs. Emma E. Stead, 547 Kohn street, Norristown, Pa. For years I suffered from constipation, indigestion, kidney trouble, and rheumatism. Every night I had to be up from eight to ten times. I had little appetite and gas and bloating caused distress after every meal. Constipation yielded only temporarily to the strongest laxatives. Rheumatism settled in both legs and it was only with the greatest difficulty that I could get around.

"I tried and tried to find the right medicine, and finally decided to put Konjola to the test. In a little over three weeks it had put my bowels in fine condition, cleansed my system, set my kidneys right and restored my digestion. Every sign of rheumatism was wiped out. Konjola is sold in New Castle, Pa., at Love and Megown drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

'Paid-in-Advance'

How to Get 15 Per Cent Interest

The Story is This:—

Mrs. A. buys an article for $75.00 on "installments" payable monthly, because it is so "easy" to pay that way, having a year to pay for it.

Mrs. B. prefers to pay cash and instead of buying now opens an account at the DOLLAR SAVINGS ASSOCIATION, paying $1.50 per week for 50 weeks and gets interest on her money.

She then takes her check which she gets at the end of the 50 weeks and makes her purchase, and because she pays cash she gets a discount of $7.50.

This saving plus the interest on her savings nets her over 15% interest.

Result—Thrifty Mrs. B. has $8.35 extra to spend while Mrs. A. has none.

Thrifty folks save their money with us and get 5% interest on their money.

The Parent Problem

by GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Regularity Will Form Good Habit

As soon as your child is able to keep dry by day, you are ready to train him by night, as a rule, no sooner. To attack both night and day problems may be too difficult. Make your task as easy as possible. It is going to be hard enough, anyway. You must succeed if you are not to be a nuisance to the child. Plan ahead; count the cost. Before you start, be pretty sure that there will be no failure.

Right food, regular eating habits, regular sleep habits, no excitement, especially before bed time, happy guidance with not too much weariness from play, with opportunities for independence and freedom from over-mothering, contribute toward success.

To keep the child from taking liquids late in the day will make dry sleeping easier. Naturally so, for the less water there is in him, the less there is to run out of him. But the child needs liquids, as he grows older, to get him to drink as much water as he should. How many a child of three or four will say, "No, I don't want any water; it will make me wet the bed?"

Better say nothing about liquids, therefore, to the child; better do nothing about his regular food routine.

Study the child's urination habits at night. He is likely to be wet within a few hours after being put to bed, and the interval of dryness will grow longer and longer through the night. Take him up in time to keep him dry, but no sooner than is necessary. If he is under three or four, don't wake him. He will likely urinate when placed in the usual position without waking.

So also find out when you must take him up again. Use an alarm clock, if necessary, to wake you. Don't guess. Work out a regular schedule. No use to take him up after he is wet. You must succeed if you are going to succeed.

Don't do all the work, mother. Let dad take his turn. He is a parent, too. Anyway, the child should learn also to be cared for by persons other than the mother.

After a few successful nights, lengthen the intervals by a few minutes each, and continue to do so until taking him up when you retire will cause him to sleep dry all night. Unless you gradually lengthen the intervals, whether by day or night, you may do more harm than good, merely training the child in the very habits you wish to overcome.

Sometimes children are awakened too early in the morning by the discomfort from a full bladder or by wetting. Parents who rise relatively early can easily take such a child up. I have seen many a morning sleep problem solved by such a simple means.

Suppose your baby, say of two or three, has been sleeping dry for several months, then suddenly wets the bed. Don't express surprise. Act as calmly as if nothing unusual had happened. Be assured that there had been some cause—some food disturbance.

Sensible Way To Lose Fat

Start taking Kruschen Salts—that's the common-sense way to reduce—but don't take them with the idea that they possess reducing qualities in themselves.

This is what they do—they clean out the impurities in your blood by keeping the bowels, kidneys and liver in splendid working shape and fill you with a vigor and tireless energy you'd most forgotten had existed.

As a result instead of planting yourself in an easy chair every free moment and letting flabby fat accumulate you feel an urge for activity that keeps you moving around doing the things you've always wanted to do and needed to do to keep you in good condition.

Then watch the pounds slide off. Kruschen Salts are the up-to-date Fountain of Youth. Take one-half teaspoonful in a glass of hot or cold water tomorrow morning and every morning—they're tasteless that way, and if they don't change your whole idea about reducing, get back and get the small price you paid for them. Get an 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts—lasts 4 weeks—at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., or any progressive druggist anywhere in the world.

It's the Little Daily Dose that does it.

bance, some too weary day, a too great excitement or emotional strain of some kind the day before. Take careful observation of the child the next few days, and if there are several recurrences within a month, consult your physician. Even then, the child should not know he is being treated for bed wetting.

No matter what the child's age is who has wetting troubles, never scold, shame or ridicule him. Don't allow anyone else to do so. Praise him when he awakens dry, say nothing when he awakens wet. Don't even look annoyed.

Dinner Precedes Vets Election

Sauerkraut Dinner Will Be Held Wednesday Evening By McBride Post

Members of the Harry L. McBride post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, are looking forward to Wednesday evening with expectancy, for on that occasion they will be guests of Major Guy Wadlinger at a sauerkraut dinner, preceding the annual election meeting.

It is hoped to have a good attendance of the membership out on this occasion, as the election will have a vital bearing on the future of the post.

The McBride post now boasts one of the largest memberships in its history and a number of worthwhile projects are being sponsored by the organization.

Following the election tomorrow evening plans will be made for a joint installation of officers in connection with the ladies auxiliary to the post, who elected officers at their meeting last week.

Choral Society Will Sing At Convention

Plan To Rehearse Numbers At Regular Weekly Sing At Y. W. C. A. Tonight

A large attendance is expected at tonight's meeting of the New Castle Festival Choral society, at which time numbers which the society will sing during the state convention of teachers on December 26 and 27 will be rehearsed. The choral rehearsals will be held at the Y. W. C. A.

The entire program tonight will be devoted to the program which they will give on December 26.

Gang Of Boys Arrested For Thefts

GREENVILLE, Pa., Dec. 17.—A series of petty thefts, netting its perpetrators many small sums of money, is believed to have been traced down to a group of youths, all but one of which is under 16 years of age. Fred Pecoy, 22, is the oldest, and was placed under arrest just a few hours prior to his intended marriage Saturday afternoon. He entered a plea of guilty.

Five boys, facing various petty theft charges, are to have their cases disposed of later, while Pecoy was held for court, being committed to jail in default of $1,000 bail.

Bullano Heads Tigers Club For Another Season

Plans Are Discussed For Minstrel Show To Be Held During Winter

PAST YEAR HAS BEEN SUCCESSFUL

J. V. Bullano was signally honored at the annual meeting of the Tigers Club, when he was named president of the organization for the third successive year. This tribute was in recognition of his untiring efforts to increase the membership and activities of the club.

The meeting was held in the rooms of the club on South Mill street. At the same time, other officers were elected as follows:

Vice President—J. Bordonaro
Financial Secretary—E. F. Strizzi
Corresponding Sec'y—H. E. Ross
Treasurer—Vitus Conti
Sergeant at Arms—F. Macarillo
Auditors—E. Pauls, L. DeLillo and M. Lombardo.

Before the election, a business meeting was held when plans were discussed for the fifth annual minstrel show which will be held early in 1930. It is planned to make the event this year, bigger and better than ever, with all the latest and most popular song hits and jokes, a feature.

At the regular meeting of the club in January, the date and place will be decided upon along with the director.

The minstrel show of the Tigers Club has always been a decided success, more than five thousand people having witnessed the four shows given in the past.

The matter of the annual banquet was also discussed, which will be one of the biggest affairs yet held by the club.

The Tigers Club was formerly known as the Independent Italian Association, and was organized in 1926 for the purpose of sponsoring athletics. The following year, athletic activities were abandoned and the Association was reorganized under the name of the Tigers Club.

All members of the club are asked to attend the next regular meeting which will be held Sunday, December 22 at 1:30 in the club rooms.

COMPLETE SEEVERS' JURY MONDAY EVENING

and some time elapsed before he was finally selected. Some little humor entered into it when Major Meyers for the defense smilingly asked if Attorney Edwin K. Logan was a member of the Central Presbyterian church. Dr. Wingerd replied that he thought Mr. Logan was not on the rolls of the church.

Asks For First Degree.

In his opening to the jury District Attorney J. Elder Bryan took but little time. He recited the incidents out of which the case arose, told of how Seever's wife in an automobile on the Youngstown road and after reciting these facts Mr. Bryan said they would prove them by evidence and ask for a first degree verdict.

For a time it looked on Monday afternoon as though a special panel of jurors would have to be drawn. A long list of jurors was disqualified because of opinions and then just as suddenly the tide shifted and the jurors called were able to qualify.

Many Examined.

Frank Veon was the first juror called in the afternoon session. He was challenged peremptorily by the commonwealth.

Walter Emery, a laborer of Union Township, was challenged peremptorily by the defense.

Charles E. Young, a clerk of the Second Ward, had a fixed opinion in the case and was excused for cause.

W. A. Hanna, an insurance salesman of Shenango Township had a fixed opinion and was excused for cause.

Charles Frew, a laborer of the 7th Ward had a fixed opinion and was challenged for cause.

James W. Stoner, a laborer of Slippery Rock Township qualified in all respects and was accepted as juror number five.

Amanda Michael, a housekeeper of the 4th Ward qualified as a juror but was challenged peremptorily by the defense.

H. L. Truby an electrician of the 1st Ward was challenged peremptorily by the defense.

Fred C. Hohmann, Jr., a farmer of Plaingrove Township was challenged peremptorily by the commonwealth.

Fixed Opinions.

G. F. Morrow, a garage owner of Wampum had a fixed opinion and was excused for cause.

Eva Forrest, a housekeeper of the 4th ward had a fixed opinion and was excused for cause.

Edna Fisher, a housekeeper of Ellwood City had a fixed opinion and was excused for cause.

Walter L. Stoner, a machinist of Mahoning Township had a fixed opinion and was excused for cause.

Sarah M. Flynn, a housekeeper of the 6th Ward had a fixed opinion and was excused for cause.

Bessie A. Donaldson, a housekeeper of the 2nd ward had a fixed opinion and was excused for cause.

John H. Whiteman, a tinworker of the 5th ward was challenged peremptorily by the commonwealth.

Francis McCracken, a farmer of Scott Township was challenged peremptorily by the defense.

D. S. Heckathorne, a real estate man of the 3rd ward was challenged peremptorily by the defense.

Chester M. Reynolds, a carpenter of the 2nd ward, was challenged peremptorily by the defense.

E. Mary Kennedy, a housekeeper of the 3rd ward, was challenged peremptorily by the defense.

Floyd Duncan, a foreman of Ellwood City, was opposed to capital punishment and was excused for cause.

James Hasely, a laborer of Union Township, qualified and was accepted as juror number six.

D. R. Williams, a laborer of Ellwood City could not render a verdict of first degree with the death penalty said, and was excused for cause.

Alex Johnson, a foreman of Ellwood City had a fixed opinion and was excused for cause.

Township, qualified and was accepted as juror number six.

D. R. Williams, a laborer of Ellwood City could not render a verdict of first degree with the death penalty said, and was excused for cause.

Alex Johnson, a foreman of Ellwood City had a fixed opinion and was excused for cause.

Lillian Jordan, a housekeeper of Washington Township, qualified and was accepted as juror number seven.

W. C. Eckenrodt, a salesman of the 2nd ward had a fixed opinion and was excused for cause.

Juror No. 8.

Frank Kaufman, a laborer of the 3rd ward qualified and was accepted as juror number eight.

H. A. Wilson, a laborer of the 4th ward qualified and was accepted as juror number nine.

George C. Fox, an advertising manager of the 2nd ward, qualified and was accepted as juror number ten.

Harvey Peters a farmer of Washington Township, was challenged peremptorily by the commonwealth.

Louise Martin, a housekeeper of Scott Township was challenged peremptorily by the defense.

This was the first juror examined in the afternoon session. Court adjourned until seven o'clock and when it opened, James Crawford, retired, of New Wilmington qualified and was accepted as juror number eleven.

Earl Hunt, a laborer of Shenango township was challenged peremptorily by the commonwealth.

Jessie Twaddle, a housekeeper of the 3rd ward was challenged peremptorily by the commonwealth.

Estella M. Hove a housekeeper of Union Township had a fixed opinion and was excused for cause.

Kenneth Butler, a foreman of the 3rd ward, had a fixed opinion and was excused for cause.

Frank S. Hoover, a laborer of the 6th ward, was challenged peremptorily by the commonwealth.

Dr. Charles B. Wingerd was the last juror called. He qualified and filled the jury.

From the list of witnesses subpoenaed by the commonwealth and the defense it seems certain that this trial will last until the latter part of the week. The commonwealth will endeavor to establish motive, malice and premeditation for the rash act of Seever's, while his counsel will attempt to prove that he was temporarily insane at the time the shots were fired, that he was incapable of determining right from wrong.

Council Starts Budget Making

Appropriations To Be Kept Down To Best Possible Figures

FIGURES AS YET ARE INDEFINITE

Mayor William Gillespie and councilman colleagues met today in city hall and commenced compilation of appropriations required to operate the city during 1930. Councilmen-elect Genkinger and Treser participated in the budget making.

The session was adjourned at noon until this afternoon when the budget making will be resumed. It was indicated by the solons and the councilmen-elect that it is their desire to pare down as far as possible.

Appropriations for 1929 totalled $647,544 and it was estimated roughly today that at least $616,000 would be necessary for the operation of the city during next year.

The assessed valuation is approximately $57,598,570. The city expects to realize $35,000, from 1929 taxes, $20,000 from merchantile tax license fees and $34,500 from various other sources.

The tax levy for general revenue purposes for 1929 was 10 1-2 mills. Council hopes to keep down appropriations to such an extent that operating expense can be derived from a 9 1-4 or 9 1-2 tax levy for general revenue.

No additional police or firemen will be employed, it was indicated. No new fire trucks will be bought but the Park avenue and Knox truck will be repaired to meet required needs, it was said.

A sweeper and road machine may be added to the department of streets and it will be necessary to employ two additional assessors to make the triennial assessment.

Council did not have time to study the needs of all departments this morning but will pass on them all this afternoon.

The estimates compiled so far follow:

Department of public affairs: 1929 appropriation $107,172; 1930 estimate, $107,172.

Department of accounts and finance: 1929 appropriation, $27,000; 1930 estimate, $28,600.

Department of public safety: 1929 appropriation, $216,686; 1930 estimate, $216,686.

Wheeling Theater Owners Plan For Sunday Opening

(International News Service) WHEELING, W. Va., Dec. 17. — County and city authorities here may find themselves involved in a battle over "blue laws" if George Otte, president of the Theatre Owners Association, carries out an announcement that beginning next Sunday local theatres will be open and operating.

It has been almost 50 years since theatres have been operated here on Sunday and churchmen are demanding that they remain closed.

Playhouse managers here are said to have grown tired of seeing the "Sunday business" led to Ohio theatres just across the river and have decided to see if it can be "kept at home."

Prosecutor A. C. Schiffer has stated only that he will examine both municipal and state laws governing the operation of playhouses on Sunday and govern himself accordingly.

The East Side W. C. T. U. held their regular meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. A. Cox, Beckford street with Mrs. Ulrich in charge of the devotionals and Mrs. Earl Young, president, conducted the business session. Twenty-one sunshine bags were reported ready to be sent to the hospital for soldiers and sailors at Aspinwall, Pa.

Mrs. Jennie Forquer gave an interesting talk on her branch of the work. The union will meet again January 20, at the home of Mrs. G. G. Orr, Hillcrest avenue.

The Dancing Bear Comes to Town (After an old print)

The village awoke from its lethargy when Tony came to town with his trained bear. The bear was taught to box, and for years afterward the joke was on father because he accepted Tony's invitation, "Put on the gloves with him meesteaire, he no hurt you." All the bear did, of course, was to knock father through a picket fence.

Accept our INVITATION to pay us a Christmas visit. No doubt you, like so many other New Castle people, can find many pleasing appropriate gifts for every member of the family. From a high chair for the baby to a bedroom suite for mother—Liberal payments.

SMOKERS a gift every man appreciates

Gather round, ladies, and listen to a bit of inside information about your men folks. They may kiss you half-heartily when you present them with a bolt of toweling, etc., for Christmas, but they will give you their eternal blessing every time they sit down in their favorite lounging chair and light a smoke, if you remember them with a smoker.

ON THE PUBLIC SQUARE

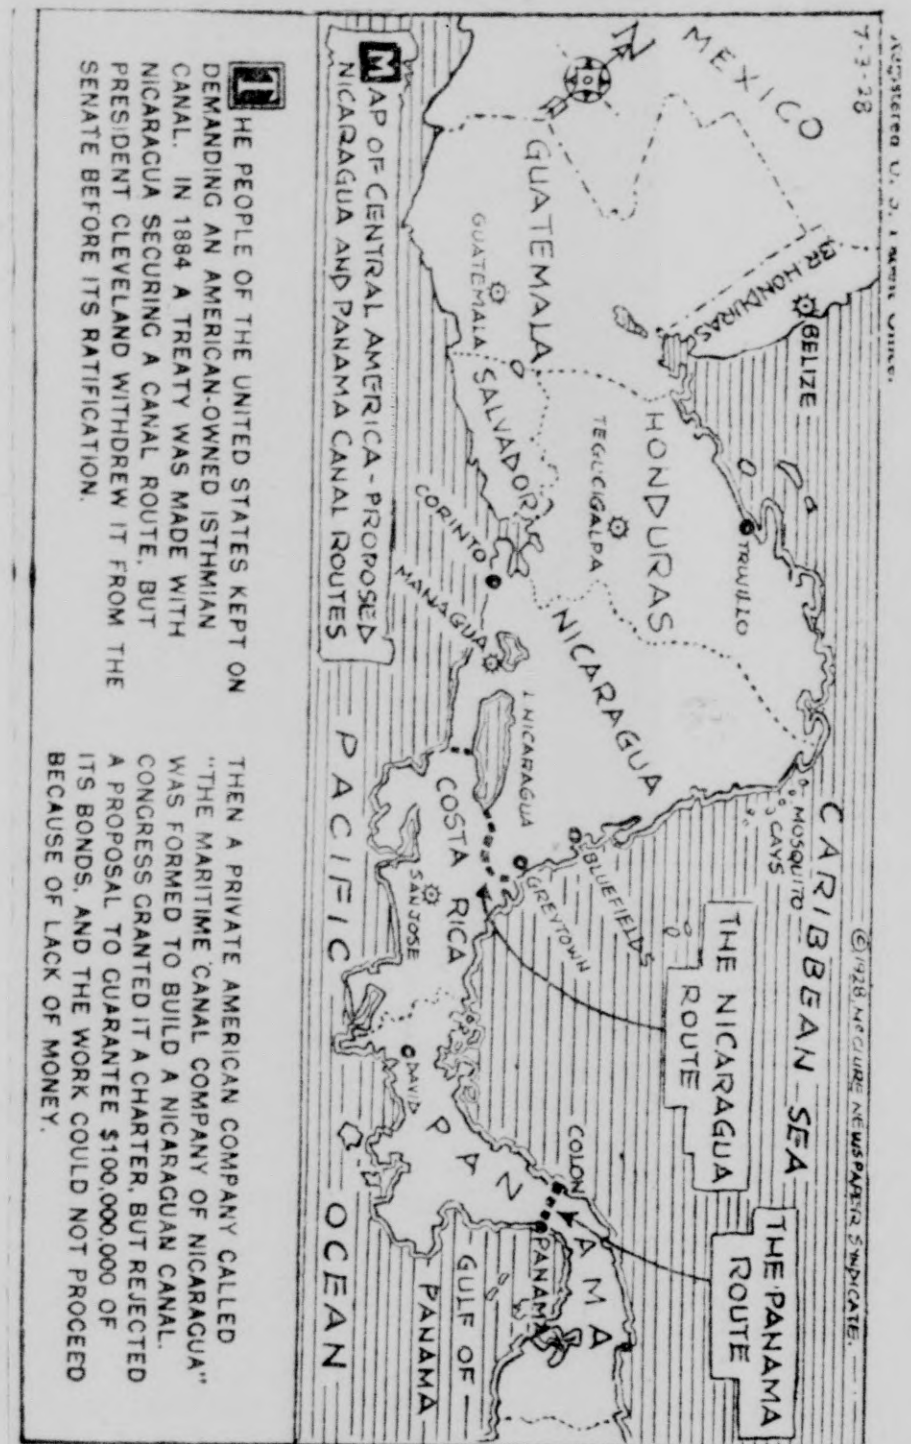

Closing Lecture At St. John's Church

Dr. Ralph Heim, of Thiel College, will deliver his last of the series of lectures in St. John's Lutheran church this evening. The first half of the evening beginning at 7:30 will be devoted to the discussion of Sunday School administration. This will include phases of punctuality, attendance and general deportment during the Sunday School class period.

Art Shires, Chicago's Great "It" Man Licked By Big Football Star

George Trafton, Ponderous In Size Pastes (Arthur The Great) For Five Rounds

Shires Down On Floor Several Times, Saved By Bell; Hack Wilson Turns Up His Nose

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—Arthur (The Great) Shires, big bubble, has burst with a resounding pop and the White Sox first baseman today is nursing the bumps administered last night by George Trafton, 219-pound football center, who belted him all over the ring in their clown bout here last night.

Trafton was given the decision. At the opening George Arthur came bounding out of his corner with the same type of rush that felled Mystery Dan Daly last week in Shires' professional debut. It failed to bring the desired result last night, however, for Trafton slapped him and bounced him off the floor and into the ropes with a right hand smack. Shires lay on the floor as the round closed.

The bell ending the first round ended the fight, as far as action was concerned. In the second round they mixed it in the mode of a street brawl, Trafton finally bouncing the modest first baseman off the ropes once more with a right handed crack.

Good Foot Race. From then on the bout took on the complexion of a foot race between two tired runners. Panting for breath and goaded on by the jeers of 5,000 customers who paid $15,000 to witness the spectacle, they alternated at pursuing the other, each hoping he would not catch up.

The bout closed with the two opponents standing flat-footed waiting for the bell to ring before they fell from exhaustion.

Neither one showed any preparation. Trafton, tired from swinging rights and lefts at Shires, offered an excellent target, his chest heaving from fatigue. Shires, on the other hand, was exhausted from receiving the swings.

Trafton knocked Arthur down twice in the first round, and again in the second when Shires was narrowly saved from a knockout by covering his head with both hands and bending almost double.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

Joe Feldman of Cleveland, last night won on a foul in the eighth round of a scheduled 10-round bout with Mickie Solomon of New Castle. Solomon had the best of the bout up to the sixth. Solomon hit low in the seventh, was warned and when he landed another low punch in the eighth he was disqualified.

Art Shires the chief principal in Chicago's Tournament of Brag last night took a lacing from George Trafton, football player. Trafton laid Shires down a couple of times and at the end of the five round bout they were apparently pleased to hear the bell.

Fair Play, considered king of the sires, died yesterday at Lexington. He was the sire of numerous stake winners, including Man O'War. Poaled in 1904 Fair Play was retired after a successful season on the track. Joe Widener paid $100,000 for Fair Play, the highest price ever paid for a stallion.

Pitt came through again last night with a 23-21 basketball victory over Iowa University at Iowa City. Previously Panthers defeated Indiana and Northwestern.

Ralph Greenleaf shattered world's billiard marks at Detroit when he beat unfinished run of 126 to beat Taberski in two innings.

Indies-Kandy Kids Win Floor Games

Wampum Indies Defeat Shelby Office Team; Kandy Kids Trim West Pittsburgh

The fast going Office team of the Shelby Tube mill met defeat at the hands of the Wampum Indies on Friday, the 13th, by the score of 31 to 25. The game was one of the fastest in the history of the game. It was not time during the game was Edwood threatening and almost every field goal registered was from the center of the floor. The fast passing attack of the Indies baffled the Ellwood team as all shots were registered under the basket. Patterson and Hennon were the big scorers for the Indies while Kimes and Grecco showed up best for the losers.

The K. K. Klub registered a hard win over the West Pittsburgh aggregation in the preliminary by a score of 38 to 18. The score indicates a walk away, which was not the case. At the half, Wampum was leading by the small margin of two points. The defense of the K. K. Klub tightened up during the last half of the game and West Pittsburgh was outscored 21 points to 3. Boone and McKim were the shining lights for the Wampum team while Beres showed up well for the visitors.

The summaries: K. K. Klub. West Pittsburgh. Boone 9, McKim 3, Grecco 3, Patterson 3, Hennon 3, Allen 3, Ferrucci 3, Substitutions: Wampum. Roberts, Hennon, Shiek, McKim, West Pittsburgh. J. Onicka, Quinn. Field Goals: Wampum. Boone 9, Aello 3, Hennon, Allen, McKim 3, West Pittsburgh. Beres 2, Cochran, J. Elssesser 2, R. Elssesser 2. Fouls: Wampum. Boone 2 out of 2; White 1 out of 5; McKim 1 out of 1; West Pittsburgh. Beres 4 out of 4; Cochran 0 out of 1; R. Elssesser 0 out of 2.

Indies. Office. Boone 9, Hennon 3, Blythe 3, Jamuzzi 3, Patterson 3, Grecco 3, Ferrucci 3, Substitutions: Indies. Summers, Dorwort. Office. Chambers, Kellner. Field Goals: Indies. "Y" Seniors Top Pennsy Team In City Loop Game

Highland U. P. And Croton Play Feature Game; Mahoning M. E. Trims Epworth M. E.

The City Basketball league opened last night at the "Y" floor with the Y. M. C. A. senior class hanging a 23 to 9 defeat on the Pennsylvania railroad team. In the two church league games the Highland U. P. team nosed out Croton in a great over-time affair 17 to 15 and the Mahoning M. E. boys defeated the Epworth M. E. team 34 to 23.

The first game on the bill last night was between the Mahoning and Epworth teams and it was a good game. The end of the first half found the Mahoning boys ahead 14 to 10 and they kept up the good work in the second half. Spike was the big gun for the winners, caging nine baskets while Spencer, Bobosky and Ingram also played good basketball. For the losers the work of Shaffer, Swinburg and Long featured.

Two Over-Time Periods. In the Highland U. P. and Croton game the fans got a real thrill when the teams ended up the regulation game 13-13 and were forced to play two three minute extra periods to decide the issue with the Highland team taking a victory at 17 to 15. It was about as exciting a game as one would care to see. Jenkins and Pollock cared the baskets that gave Highland a win. Nolan, Lewellyn and Calaluca led the Crotonites. Clark, Pollock and Jenkins were the best for the winners. Croton led at the end of the first half 8 to 5.

"Y" Seniors Win. The Pennsylvania railroad team found the going too tough in the opening game of the City league played following the Church league games. The "Y" Seniors took a 23 to 9 victory in easy fashion. The railroad boys could not score consistently from the floor, caging but three baskets.

At the end of the first half the score favored the Seniors 9 to 2. In the last half the work of Bilger, Matella and Mancine was too clever for the Pennsy boys. Hahn, Harry Culbertson and Kwiat scored for the losers. The summaries: Mahoning M. E. 34, Epworth M. E. 23. Spike 9, Spencer 3, Bobosky 3, Long 3, Ingram 3, G. Swinburg 3, Gilmore 3, O'Brien 3. Subs: Maxwell, Buchanan, Shaffer. Field Goals: Spike 9, Bobosky, Spencer 2, Ingram 3, Gilmore, Long, Earl, Swinburg 2, Shaffer 4. Fouls: Mahoning 2 out of 6; Epworth M. E. 7 out of 13. Referee, Fraser.

Highland U. P.—17, Croton M. E.—15. Jenkins 9, F. Calaluca 3, Pollock 3, F. Lewellyn 3, Robson 3, C. Benninghoff 3, Johns 3, G. Nolan 3, Mott 3, G. Shaffer 3. Subs: Clark, Fiorelli. Field Goals: Jenkins, Pollock 3, Clark 2, Johns, Calaluca, Lewellyn 2, Nolan 3. Fouls: Highland 3 out of 6; Croton 3 out of 6. Referee, Fraser.

Pennsy R. R.—9, "Y" Seniors—23. Hahn 9, F. Matella 3, Culbertson 3, F. Bilger 3, Veschler 3, C. Stewart 3, Egan 3, G. Nolte 3, H. Culbertson 3, G. Mancine 3. Subs: Kwiat, Lerner, Boyles. Field Goals: Hahn, Harry, Culbertson, Kwiat, Matella 4, Bilger, Stewart, Mancine 2. Fouls: Pennsy 3 out of 7; "Y" Seniors 1 out of 11. Referee, Hood. Score: Akin. Times—Tony Tino.

AMATEUR FOOTBALL

The South Side Midgets are the newly crowned midget champions of the city. On Saturday afternoon they defeated the Rambler Midgets 12-6. Pegnato plucky half-back of the winners scored the two touchdowns for the South Siders. Pegnato and Mike were the best for the winners while Sontag and Travers showed up best for the losers.

High Floormen Start Practice For Game

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh Drills Boys On Monday For Wilkinsburg Game

With one victory already "in the bag", Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh of the New Castle High school started rehearsals for the second game of the year on Monday afternoon. The next opponents for the Red and Black quintet will be the Wilkinsburg High team which they subdued 26-19 last Friday night.

The game will be played at Wilkinsburg and will inaugurate the floor season for Coach Elmer Carroll's five. The workout last night consisted of about one hour practice shooting, shooting fouls, and about one hour's practice game. The first team composed of Alexander at Center, McAuley and Uram at the guard posts, and Wanio and Rowe on the forward position ran all over the scrubs.

Arthur Alexander, the pivot man looked very impressive Monday. He caged numerous buckets under the basket. By the middle of the season Alexander will be a smooth running floorman. The remainder of the team all looked good. Coach Bridenbaugh is sticking to the idea that fouls count. Foul shooting is practiced by the boys for a long time daily. Ten of the 26 points on Friday were the result of fouls.

Coach Carroll was not quite pleased with the exhibition his boys gave here and reports that a change in the lineup will probably occur when New Castle plays Wilkinsburg the second time. Wilkinsburg also started practice sessions on Monday. Following the Wilkinsburg game the locals will play Mars High on January 3, when they start the W. P. I. A. L. games. New Castle will be a member of Section Three in this scholastic league.

Cen. Christians Defeat Sharon

Central Christian Church League Team Takes 26 To 19 Victory At Sharon

The Central Christian Church League team traveled to Sharon last night and took a 26 to 19 victory over the Y. M. B. C. team of the Sharon First M. B. church. It was a good game throughout for four periods, with the locals always in the lead. At the end of the first half the score favored the locals 12 to 7, through the fine work of Earl Bauman who caged the ball four times, with Vago tallying one basket and Bauman also caging two fouls. The Centrals outscored the Sharon team 14 to 12 in the final half with Vago, McClure, Cowmeadow and Watson scoring from the field, while the locals kept up their good work on the foul line by caging eight out of ten for the evening.

For the Sharon team the work of Burt, Milleron and Morgan was the best.

The summary: Sharon M. E. 19, Cen. Christians 26. Burt 3, Milleron 3, F. Vago 3, Kennedy 3, F. McClure 3, Skinner 3, G. Cowmeadow 3, Williams 3, G. Paulini 3. Subs: Wilson, Smith, A. Bauman, Watson. Field Goals—Milleron 4, Kennedy, Morgan 2, Wilson, Vago 2, McClure, E. Bauman 4, Cowmeadow, Watson. Fouls—Sharon 3 out of 10, Christians—8 out of 10. Referee—Sater.

Franklin Reserves Defeat Union Boys

Benjamin Franklin junior high reserves trounced the junior team of Union high school in a game played at the Scotland lane gymnasium. The final score was 37 to 6.

The Franklin boys displayed a strong offensive game from the start and the Union lads were unable to cope with it. Otto Maki and Dick Jones were the leading scorers for Franklin while Loudon and Patton played well for Union.

The lineup: Franklin Reserves 37, Union 6. Maki 9, F. Patton 3, Sanders 3, F. Slieski 3, Jones 3, G. Louison 3, Williams 3, G. Mondo 3, G. Allen 3. Field Goals: Maki 5, Jones 6, Sanders 2, Tiplica 2, Kominic 2, Jones, Patton and Loudon.

Lehigh Bowlers Defeat News

Wes Davy's Aggregation Takes Over News Editorial Gang

After Napoleon had taken it on the lower maxillary at the Battle of Waterloo, he was heard to remark that he had seventeen reasons why he should have won the argument, but the bookmakers paid off on Wellington that afternoon.

And if Jack Dempsey wanted to be could tell us why he lost to Gene Tunney, but the boys who carried the Marine's end in the betting collected heavy sugar.

And Then The News

Likewise, also and because, The News Editorial Bowling team can recite, sing or declaim fourteen alibis for the licking it took from the Lehigh Portland Cement office team last night but every one of the alibis is about as efficacious as a liver pill is for a broken rib.

It wasn't "down in the Lehigh Valley" but it certainly was the valley of defeat for the News hounds, and no alibis will be set forth here. If they were set forth, however, they would run something like this, reading from east to west, with due care for the traffic lights.

1st—Wes Davy and Bob Long rooted themselves nearly into tonsillitis, and the delicate sensibilities of The News men were upset.

2nd—Charley Allen had a date with his wife and buried his last game. (You know how wives are.)

3rd—Charley Landolf, the pseudonym vulgarly tagged with the pseudonym of Art Shires, didn't have his right shoes on. It seems Charley has two pairs, and the other pair are his bowling shoes. Anyway that's his story.

4th—The Lehigh ran in Walt Kroen who uses a hook ball, and hooked The News team.

5th—There is a suspicion that somebody doped the drinking water.

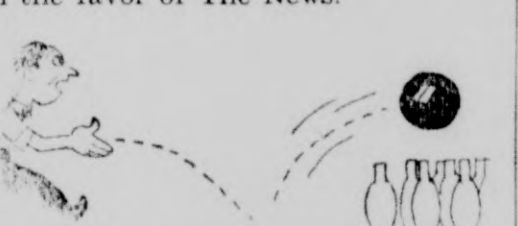

Close At That

In spite of these many alibis, any one of which is good for one hundred pins, The News team nearly won. This will be marked up as a moral victory, but inasmuch as the Lehigh men are not any too familiar with morals it won't do much good.

Monday night's jousting was the second of a three game series between the two teams, and the third one will be the Battle of the Century, or say the decade. The championship of something or other will be decided in the third game and inasmuch as The News team is still leading by a few pins, the third battle will be for blood, or whatever it is that bowlers go in for.

In the first set of three games played ten days ago, The News scored, 1601 pins to the Lehigh's 1623. Last night The News scored 1619 pins and the Lehigh 1738 pins. The grand totals to date are News, 3420, Lehigh 3261, which according to the adding machine shows a difference of 59 pins in the favor of The News.

Just when the next game will be played is not certain as yet. One thing is certain however, when it is played admission should be charged. Humor should be worth something, and see-

Butler High Wins

Butler high is going to make it tough for the Sectional Three teams this year, as evidenced by their upset of the last New Brighton team in a game at Butler on Monday night. The score was 28 to 23. It was the opening game for the Butler team at home, and they looked good. Ralston and A. Lobuano looked the best for the Butlerites. Butler will meet New Castle twice this year in sectional games.

Two Fast Games For Boosters On Tap This Week

Boosters To Play At Greenville Thursday And "Y" On Saturday

The New Castle Booster basketball team will face two hard games this week. Thursday night the locals go to Greenville, and on Saturday they meet the South Side Lincolns in the City League at the locals "Y" court.

Manager Tony Tino has scheduled the fast Greenville All-Stars for Thursday night of this week at the new City gym in Greenville. The game will start at 8:30 o'clock, with two Church League teams of Greenville playing the preliminary game.

Tonight the Boosters have been requested by their able coach Arnold "Fiz" Fraser to report at the "Y" for practice against the Y. M. C. A. class team. The Boosters have been going hot and they hope to add the strong Greenville team to the list of victims. The locals will meet several ex-college teams in the month of January.

The game at the "Y" Saturday with the South Side Lincolns should be a good one, as their is a lot of rivalry between the two teams, and the South Side boys will be followed to the "Y" by several hundred fans.

Non-Stop Wrestling Match Is Halted By Very Human Referee

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Had it not been for a state commission ruling, George Shikat, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, and George Calza, outstanding challenger, might have still been wrestling.

The two mighty men of the mat were still going strong last night at 11 p. m. after one hour 36 minutes and 14 seconds of work when Referee Patsy Haley was forced to call a halt, declare the match a draw and send some 8,000 customers to their homes.

Neither man showed marked advantage during the bout. In the semi-final, Jim McMullen, one-time football star, disposed of Leon Labriola by the flying tackle method.

MANY ATTEND ANTI-YULETIDE FESTIVAL

In one of the most colorful pre-Christmas parties of the year the combined Sunday School classes of Mrs. Chas. Yoho and Mrs. Josie Tilia met at the home of Miss Alveta Davis, who proved to be a very charming hostess. The assemblage was one continuous note of merriment and hilarity culminating in the distribution of the much producing Christmas presents in which all present shared. The most amiable gifts were received by Roy Douthitt and Alveta Davis. The evening was spent in playing various games, common to all house parties, which were perpetuated and enjoyed by the youthful participants.

At an appropriate hour a novelty system of partner selection hushed the rhythm of frivolity long enough to enjoy a very delicious lunch which was served by the hostess assisted by her mother, Mrs. John Davis, Mrs. Josie Tilia and Mrs. Chas. Yoho. The classes wish to extend their thanks to Mr. and Mrs. John Davis and their daughter Miss Alveta, the hostess for their enjoyable evening. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Pete Tilia and son Robert, Mrs. Chas. Yoho, Mr. and Mrs. John Davis and children, Jack, George and William. Grandfather And Child Are Hunted

Coraopolis Woman Granted Custody Of Her Child, Grandfather Takes Youngster Away

(International News Service) CORAOPOLIS, Pa., Dec. 17.—Armed with a warrant for his arrest, constables today started a search for Benjamin Griffiths, who is said to have disappeared Saturday with his grandson, Benjamin, aged 4.

Mrs. Ursula Griffiths, the child's mother had been granted the custody of her four children, who had been staying with their grandfather. After Judge James B. Drew, awarded her the custody of the children, the mother came to her home here. When she called on her grandfather she was told "Benjamin is not at home."

Plans for the structure were announced Thursday at a dinner given by Cyrus H. K. Curtis, publisher and president of the Benjamin Franklin Memorial, Inc., which, in co-operation with the Franklin institute, plans to erect the building on a site with frontage of 150 feet provided by the city.

The building will be three stories in height. A feature of the first floor will be a planetarium, showing an artificial sky, the sun, moon, planets and 9,000 fixed stars, each precisely where it belongs and each with its proper relative brightness.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 17.—A memorial to Benjamin Franklin, costing $5,000,000, is to be erected on the city.

British Airmen On Long Journey

Two British Fliers Leave Cranwell Airport Bound For Non-stop Hop To Africa

(International News Service) CRANWELL AIRPORT, LINCOLNSHIRE, Dec. 17.—Using a huge Royal Air Force monoplane, Squadron Leader Williams and Flight Lieutenant Jenkins hopped off from here at 8 (3 a. m. E. S. T.) today on an attempted non-stop flight to Capetown, South Africa.

The airmen carried a fuel supply of 1,000 gallons of gasoline which they estimated would be sufficient to keep them aloft for 60 hours.

The distance from here to Capetown is about 6,000 miles.

ROY WORTERS

Physically most of us are little, when chests are expanded and we stand at our most upright, we are still but small-to-middle in stature and general frame. That has been a general physical characteristic through the ages and that you sport fans—why the David and Goliath situation in athletics always makes such a powerful public appeal. The "I'll feel" in any strenuous contest wins the majority's cheers and rightfully so in numerous cases.

Roy Worters of the New York Americans, for example, is rated by many as the greatest goalie hockey has yet produced. Even in those ponderous pads that are part of the goaltender's position, Worters is visibly the smallest player on big league rinks. Large size usually is considered a fundamental asset for a goalie, but Roy is the exception that proves the rule.

Worters unquestionably is hockey's greatest "Little Giant". While Mickey Walker, boxing's mid-dileweight champ, may not seem small to many, he's only 5 foot 6; and yet he's often whipped opponents who towered above him. This "Toy Bulldog" has taken on considerable weight but he is still short enough to win those "David" cheers every time (and it's not often lately) he tears into a ring "Goliath".

Football always has a liberal sprinkling of titanic tads. Everyone has heard of Yale's Albie Booth, and all who follow Fordham sing the fame of Tony Siano, its captain and center extraordinaire. You can't tell his admirers that Ben Tieknor of Harvard, Riegels of California, Moynihan of Notre Dame or any other snapper-back could play that roving position any better than, or as well as, that muscular midget Siano.

Of course, the little fellows in sport frequently get more cheers than their actual play merits, but there are many exceptions to that—conspicuously so in the cases of the few "Giant Killers" mentioned and pictured here.

One former All-American has been trying to get into a New York basement for two weeks. At last report he was still being held for demons.

The Carnegie Foundation ought to look into this. It looks like overemphasis of the Santa Claus idea.

Walter Masters, Penn's grid express, is delivering Christmas packages for Philadelphia postoffice. Reports say he is meeting plenty of interference.

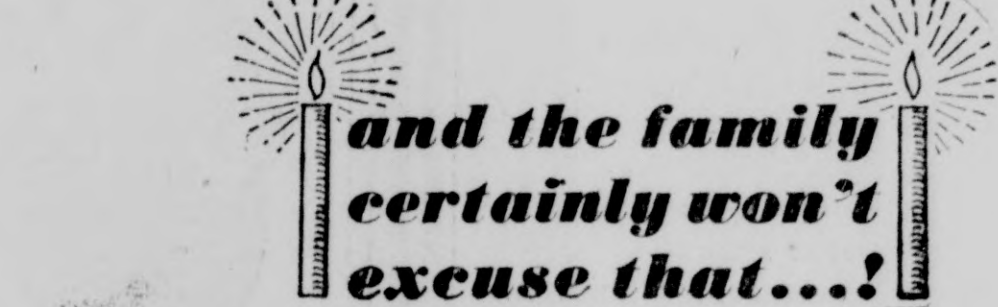

Trying to deliver a Christmas package in the pre-holiday rush is like attempting to score a touchdown at the equator with a snowball. You can try it but that's all.

Wise shoppers should rent a couple of tackles and no less than four guards to run interference.

After getting downtown through a series of end runs the shopper might get inside a store by a quarterback sneak.

There's no excuse for not giving a ZENITH ...except forgetting to order one

This year...more than ever before...the choice of a gift radio is simply a matter of going to your dealer and ordering a Zenith...the radio you have always wanted and want now! Finer than ever in every respect...with year-ahead advancements in design and construction, with cabinets of new and greater beauty...it is now so low in cost that any excuse for giving an ordinary radio, for buying a "reduced-price," inferior radio has vanished. This Xmas everyone can afford a Zenith

Make sure today that you won't have to make excuses later...order your Zenith NOW!

15th Anniversary Automatic Zenith Receivers may be obtained in New Castle from any of these authorized Zenith agents:

NEW YORK STOCKS

Improvement In Trade Rallies Stock Market

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—After early irregularity, in which gains and losses were evenly mixed in the active steel, motor, oil and specialty stocks, the market rallied under the influence of short covering and barometer buying by the not-too-enthusiastic bulls. Improvement in trade and business sentiment, combined with the poor success of the recent bear raids, brought in more support for the market from bullish quarters that have been sitting on the fence for a week or two.

As in the last two or three sessions trading was greatly restricted by the lack of outside demand, and the turnover of the first half-hour aggregated only 348,000 shares. Bullish pools in Radio, American Foreign Power and other favorites forced prices upward to "catch the shorts," but tax selling robbed the market of considerable buying power and stocks churned back and forth without making any real progress in either direction.

U. S. Steel rose about 3 points to 169, but slumped as readily to its starting point at 167 1/2. International Combustion was battered back to 12, and American Foreign Power revived around 91 in fairly active trading.

The copper and oil slumped off from lack of attention. Rails were featureless and specialties again on the shelf.

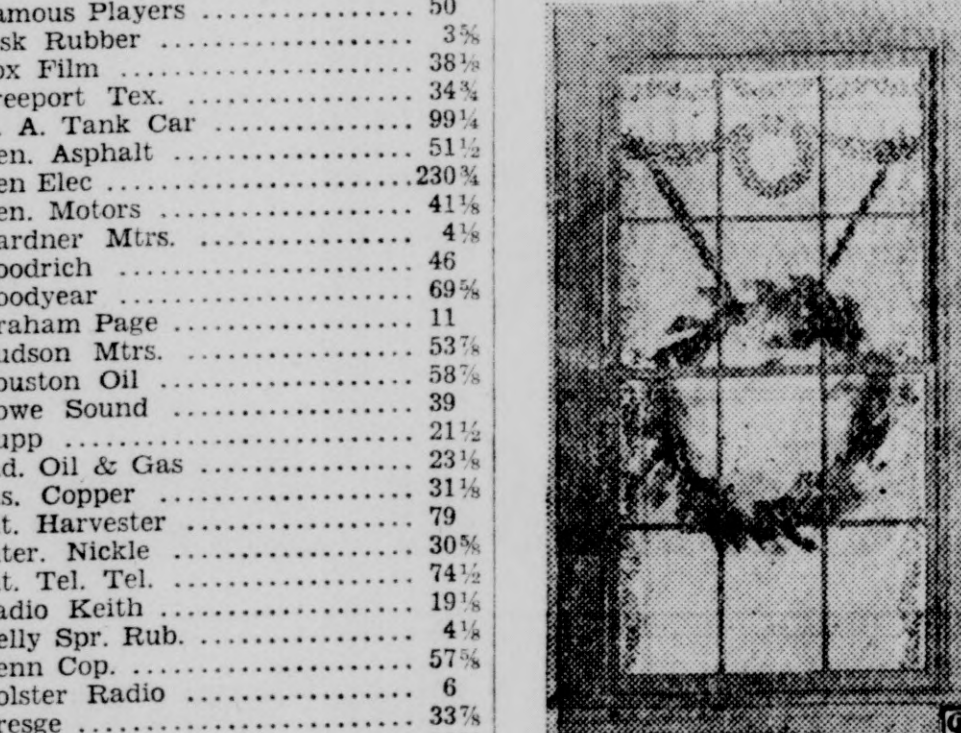

Weakness in the Argentine pesos was the feature of the foreign exchange market. Call money was in supply at 4 1/2 per cent and commodity markets steady.

New York Police Await Affidavits In Murder Mystery

Investigation Into Killing In 1923 Of "Dot" King May Be Reopened

SIGNED AFFIDAVITS MAY TELL SECRET

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The New York police, seemingly apathetic, were waiting today for copies of affidavits from Washington before taking any steps toward the re-opening of the investigation into the mysterious murder of "Dot" King, Broadway butterfly, who was strangled in her luxurious furnished apartment here six years ago.

Hints of live clues emanating from the re-opened Washington inquiry into the death of Mrs. Aurelia Fischer Dreyfus, attractive divorcee and former friend of "Dot" King, have failed to create undue agitation on the part of the police who long since listed the "Dot" King strangling as "unsolved." So far as known no detectives have been dispatched to Washington to check up on the Dreyfus investigation.

Affidavits Prepared.
It was reported in Washington however, that copies of several important affidavits made by members of family of Mrs. Dreyfus were being prepared for forwarding to the New York authorities.

The affidavits, it is understood, assert that in a dying declaration Mrs. Dreyfus repudiated her statements made in 1923 in connection with those of Edward J. McBrian, New York broker, which established the alibi of Albert E. Guimares, Gigolo and "man about town," when he was questioned in connection with the death of "Dot" King.

Mrs. Dreyfus first met McBrian in a chance meeting on Broadway not long before "Dot" King was slain. She was friendly with McBrian while she was engaged to Herbert M. Dreyfus, wealthy New York architect and artist. Subsequently Dreyfus divorced her.

It was just prior to her marriage in 1923 that she met Mrs. Fischer and McBrian became intimate with "Dot" King and her lover, Guimares. McBrian and Guimares took a room together at the Embassy hotel.

McBrian Freed.
When "Dot" King was found murdered in her apartment, it was the testimony of McBrian and Mrs. Dreyfus that secured Guimares his freedom.

McBrian's New York attorney has declared that any statements Mrs. Dreyfus made after she was picked up with a broken neck and fractured skull are worthless, as she was irrational and only semi-conscious.

Whether or not McBrian will be asked to return to Washington for further questioning in connection with the death of Mrs. Dreyfus was problematical today.

When questioned in 1923 about the "Dot" King case, Mrs. Dreyfus and her intimate friend, McBrian, declared Guimares had eaten breakfast with them in a hotel room on the morning after "Dot" was slain. The statement helped support Guimares' alibi. Guimares was "Dot" King's sweetheart.

Guimares Disappears.
The whereabouts of Guimares today is a mystery. After he was absolved of any connection with the slaying of the Broadway butterfly he became mixed up in a stock scheme and was sentenced to Atlanta for using the mails to defraud. After his release from Atlanta the former Broadway "sheik" disappeared.

McBrian was said to have been in New York a few days ago. His present whereabouts are not known. It was McBrian who last October stood before the beautiful Mrs. Dreyfus shortly before she plunged to her death from a balcony at the exclusive Potomac club in Washington. The coroner's verdict was that her death was accidental.

The affidavits that have caused a re-opening of the Dreyfus investigation in Washington were made by the dead girl's mother, Mrs. Frederick Fischer, and her daughter, Mrs. Elsa Knorr. They claimed McBrian had been abusive toward Aurelia. They intimated she may have been murdered.

East Brook Play
Wednesday Night

Seniors Of School Will Give
"Safety First" In Auditorium At 8 P. M.

"Safety First" those two words so often heard will comprise the title of the class play which seniors of the East Brook high school will give in the auditorium on Wednesday evening December 18 at 8 o'clock.

The cast follows:
Jack Montgomery, a Young Husband—Don St. Claire.
Jerry Arnold, an Unsuccessful Fixer—Norman Albion.
Mr. McNutt, a Defective Detective—Harold McConnell.
Elmer Flannell, Awfully Shrinking—Robert Arblaster.
Abou Ben Mocha, a Turk from Turkey—James Thompson.
Mabel Montgomery, Jack's Wife—Pansie Nelson.
Virginia Brodger, Her Younger Sister—Isabelle McKnight.
Mrs. Barrington-Bridger, their Mother—Sophia Gardner.
Zuleika, a Tender Turkish Maiden—Olive Hekathorne.
Mary Ann O'Finerty, an Irish Cook Lady—Ruth Maxwell.

The synopsis of the play follows:
Act I shows the sitting room in Jack's little home in the suburbs. What happened to Zuleika? Act II is the same scene but a month later. What happened to Jack and Jerry? In act III Mrs. Bridger's garden is shown and the time is three weeks later. Here the question revolves around what happened to Mary Ann.

ROAMING
With Richards
Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

There probably is little connection between the Lehigh Portland Cement office bowling team, and crime but it does seem rather odd that both nights they played us there should be something doing in the way of criminal practices. The first night they played us the Capitol Theatre was robbed. Last night the Severs murder trial was on. When the next game is played look all your windows and doors, you can't tell what might happen.

Alibis never won much but a wreath of raspberries, but honestly now after doing three sessions of a murder trial how can a fellow bowl. Got down to the bowling game all a bib and tucker after the trial, and after listening to jurors explain why they couldn't serve on a murder jury. I wanted to ask some of the spectators if they had any scruples against capital punishment. Especially when Wes Davy threw that horse laugh of his.

I don't mind a hearty guffaw occasionally, and even a dirty snicker gets by at times, but a horse laugh is something else again. It takes long practice to develop a horse laugh of such equine proportions, that and a long association with horses. And remember this, customers, you can't fool a horsefly.

As the series stands now, if it is able to stand after last night, the News editorial team is leading by 58 pins. Many a woman has offered to smack somebody's face for two pins, so that fifty nine pins ought to be worthy a couple of smacks. Wet ones.

The gallery was replete with some bowling experts last night. Bob Hamilton, Art Hoskins, Harry Glover, and a lot of others. The suspicion is that they wanted to get some pointers on how to roll. And as far as the News team is concerned they are still wanting to get some pointers.

Charley Schlicker must have been taking lessons from a pro for he rolled like a man who has a bet down. And by the way the secret practice of the News team didn't amount to a Jugo Slavian hoot, which is considered the most worthless hoot in the world.

It rates even below a Mexican Yip, and it takes eighteen Mexican Yips to make a good sized Siamese squawk.

However, as Cassius murmured to J. Caesar when he operated on him with an ice pick, "it's all in fun."

Getting away from bowling long enough to discuss a more serious matter, this week's roaming is being done in criminal court where a man is fighting for his life, and a commonwealth is endeavoring to take it.

From a professional viewpoint, a murder trial is a difficult game, in which the commonwealth tries to checkmate the defense and vice versa. From the viewpoint of the defendant it must be a little deeper than that. Every time a juror is accepted he knows that it is just one twelfth more of the world of people who will decide his fate.

The funny auto numbers continue to pile up or in. Check them up yourself and see what funny combinations you can see. One truck license I saw yesterday had a GG combination after the number. Sounds like a horse and buggy.

Ab Genkinger, the Duke of New Bedford, the exponent of fifteen eggs for a dozen, picked up four easy dollars yesterday. All he had to do was sit in the court room all day and wait for his name to be called as a juror. They never called him and the Duke is looking over the new straight eights after his pickup.

Miss Margaret Perry, Daughter
Of One-Time Star Fills Role
As Understudy

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—An inexperienced girl of 16 was receiving the acclaim of Broadway play-goers today.

The girl, Margaret Perry, daughter of Antoinette Perry, well known actress of yesterday, stepped into the leading role of the season's hit play, "Strictly Dishonorable," when the star, Muriel Kirkland, was suddenly taken ill, and, according to all reports gave a good account of herself.

Miss Perry had never appeared on any stage before and only had a few hours in which to study her role.

Captain Coste Has Set Record, Report

French Airman Has Established
New Record For Distance Flying

(International News Service)
PARIS, Dec. 17.—Captain Dieudonne Coste, who recently established a new record for long distance non-stop flying, today shattered the existing record for distance flight over a measured close-circuited course.

The French air ministry announced that the record had been broken at 11:58 a. m. Paris time (6:56 a. m. Eastern standard time), and that Coste intended to land at Istres immediately.

The air ministry estimated Captain Coste had covered approximately 7,870 kilometres (about 4,910 miles), when he flew over Istres for the final checking.

The formal record for long-distance flight around a closed circuit was 7,686 kilometres (about 4,791 miles), established by the Italian airman Major Arturo Ferrarin and Capt. Carlo Del Prete on June 2, 1928.

Captain Coste, used the same plane the Question Mark, in which he established the straight line record by flying from Le Bourget air field almost 5,000 miles into Manchuria.

Trial At Butler

(International News Service)
BUTLER, Pa., Dec. 17.—Trial for E. Lee Combs, of Pitsburgh, charged with criminal libel, has been deferred to the March term of court following the plea of defense attorneys that Combs' health would not permit his appearance in court this week.

Combs was indicted by the grand jury here for the alleged publication of charges against Mayor George Bob Wick, two days before the November election, in which Wick was a candidate for re-election.

College Players To Present Mystery

"The Cat And The Canary" Will Be Staged At Westminster Tonight

(Special to the News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 17.—"The Cat and the Canary," thrilling mystery by John Willard, will be presented tonight by members of the junior class of Westminster College in the local Community House. Professor A. T. Cordray, director of the Little Theatre of the college, will be in charge of the production. Miss Harriett Martin, New Castle, will assist Mr. Cordray.

Included in the cast are: Dorothy Atwood, Sharon, Pa., as Annabelle West; Gretchen Turner, Cambridge Springs, as Mammy Pleasant; Kenneth Dyer, Pittsburgh, as Paul Jones; Ted Anderson, New Wilmington, as Roger Corsby; Kenneth Hemer, New Kensington, as Harry Blythe; Joseph Dombrowski, Elizabeth, as Hendricks; William Gamble, Butler, as Dr. Patterson; Mary Lou Braham, Butler, as Susan Silsby; Margaret Sankov, New Castle, as Cicely Young; Donald Cleveland, Portersville, as Charlie Wilder.

Most of the properties for the production have been made by juniors and by members of the acted drama class under direction of Professor Cordray. It was first planned to hold the presentation of the play in the Little Theatre, running it both tonight and tomorrow night, but the prevalence of scarlet fever in the borough made such a plan seem unwise.
